Traffic Accident Claims Life Of 26-Year-Old Law Student

A 26-year-old law student, who two years ago was an unsuccessful Republican candidate for Borough Council, was killed Monday afternoon in a two-car collision at Bayard Lane and Paul Robeson Place.

Frederick Woodbridge, who had an apartment at 155 Hodge Road, was pronounced dead at Princeton Medical Center at 3:11, less than an hour after he had been extricated from his overturned car.

An obituary of Mr. Woodbridge appears on page 27.

Chief Michael Carnevale termed the accident "a tragic, tragic situation." He described the intersection as a hazardous one that is monitored very frequently by the Department's Traffic Safety Unit for traffic light violations. "It's just an unfortunate traffic accident that should not have occurred," he added.

According to the Borough investigation which is being conducted by Sgt. William Clark, Mr. Woodbridge's 1966 Rambler was stopped for a red light in the right lane of traffic on Paul Robeson Place. An unidentified car in front of him made a right turn on red, which, police say, is prohibited between 7 a.m. and 7:30 p.m.

According to the account of several witnesses, police report that Mr. Woodbridge then followed the car into the intersection, where his car was struck at 2:27 by a 1983 Buick LeSabre traveling south on Bayard Lane toward Borough Hall. They identified the driver as Marjorie Schkolnick, 45, of 87 Randall Road.

The violent impact caused Mr. Woodbridge's car to flip over. Its roof partially caved in and its windows broken out, the car came to rest at the southwest corner of Bayard and Hodge Road with Mr. Woodbridge pinned inside. A call was issued for a Jaws of

PHS HSPT Scores Low Compared to Neighbors

Princeton Regional's High School Proficiency Test (HSPT) scores were the lowest in reading compared with four of its suburban neighbors and next to the lowest in mathematics, ahead only of Lawrence.

Princeton scored 94.5 percent in the reading portion of the state exam, which was taken in the spring by all ninth graders in New Jersey. Hopewell's score was 98.8 percent; West Windsor-Plainsboro's was 98.7 percent; Montgomery's was 95.6 percent, and Lawrence's was 95.2 percent.

In mathematics, 86.6 percent of Princeton Regional ninth graders passed. Scores for Lawrence were 81.1 percent; Hopewell 97.6 percent; West Windsor-Plainsboro 97.0 percent;

Fire Department Board Unanimous In Approving Township Firehouse

The Board of Engineers of the Princeton Fire Department has voted unanimously to build a new firehouse at the intersection of Valley Road and Route 206 in Princeton Township. The new fire station, the first in the Township, would replace the Chambers Street firehouse.

Members of the board, the executive arm of the department, will officially inform the two governing bodies of their decision at a special joint Borough Council-Township Committee meeting scheduled for June 30.

The board's decision is in line with recommendations included in the Shand Report, which was released in February, 1985. The 163-page document, prepared by Fire Protection Engineer Thomas W. Shand of Syracuse, stated that Engine Company Number Three — on Chambers Street off Nassau — should be moved.

Reasons given were that the street is narrow, frequently cluttered, and that traffic often backs up and blocks the fire station doors.

The Borough currently has three fire stations within its borders: on Chambers, Chestnut and Harrison Streets. The Township has none.

Building a firehouse in the Township, says Fire Commissioner Mark Freda, is an excellent idea because it will help the department meet its future needs and will also help lower fire insurance rates in the Township without adversely affecting rates in the Borough.

Mr. Freda said there was money in both municipal budgets to fund the required engineering and architectural studies. The recommended site is directly behind the Township garage.

The Shand report had suggested an alternative site for a Township fire station, the intersection of Stuart Road and Hardy Drive. This was rejected by the department.

Mr. Freda said the June 30 meeting would launch discussions among the Borough, Township and Fire Department on several points relating to the new firehouse.

These would include, he said, what should be done with the Chambers Street fire station; how much money from the possible sale of the

Despite Serious Questions, Site Plan Review Board Approves Office Buildings

The Site Plan Review Advisory Board agreed last Wednesday to recommend to the Planning Board a developer's plan to build four office buildings off Bunn Drive, but not without raising serious questions about the suitability of the site for development.

Dr. and Mrs. William Lowe of Short Hills are proposing four office buildings of about 32,000 square feet each in place of 15 office buildings of varying sizes that they originally showed the Planning Board in concept review last October. Because the 17-acre site is located on the ecologically sensitive ridge — the heavily wooded area of steep slopes, shallow soils and big boulders across the entire northern Township — the Planning Board asked that the development be concentrated in one, two or at the most four buildings.

Dr. Lowe is a physician practicing internal medicine and teaching at Rutgers and Yale. Mrs. Lowe has been associated with a large real estate firm in the Short Hills area for some 10 years. They have purchased property diagonally across Bunn Drive from Princeton Community Village.

Life machine to extricate the victim but members of the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad were able to remove Mr. Woodbridge beforehand.

Two articles lying in the roadway next to the overturned car were a New York Yankees baseball cap and a New York magazine.

An autopsy was performed on the victim Tuesday morning. Lt. Peter Hanley, who is assisting in the investigation, reported that police have not yet received the report of the autopsy. Mrs. Schkolnick was taken by ambulance to the Medical Center where she was treated for minor injuries and released.

Had Mr. Woodbridge been a victim of the driver ahead? "One could come to that conclusion," replied Chief Carnevale, picking his words slowly. "Having seen the car move in front of you while stationary at a traffic light and not looking at the light, one might proceed."

"I'm extremely concerned with the driving habits of people," concluded Chief Carnevale. "They continue to get more reckless and careless."

and Montgomery 92.1 percent. The IISPT was taken in a pilot version last year, but this is the first time it will officially replace the Minimum Basic Skills Test, a considerably less difficult exam. Students may not graduate high school until they have passed the IISPT. Failing ninth graders have the opportunity to take it again in tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades.

In commenting on the scores, School Superintendent Paul Houston said, "the more heterogeneous a school population is, typically the lower the score." He noted that in last year's pilot test, almost every district in the state scored below Princeton in the median, "which proves most of our students do well."

He said the scores did not indicate a weakness in Princeton Regional's math program. "I don't think you can say it's a weakness in the program if our SAT scores are the best in the state."

He added that there may, however, be a need to make adjustments, and that certain skills may not have been taught to certain youngsters. "We may be looking at an adjustment, not a major overhaul."

The superintendent, who will leave Princeton on June 30 to head the Tucson, Ariz., school district, said that Princeton has never taught to test, but that it might have to do this sufficiently to get kids through.

He said that William Johnson, principal of the middle school, will implement a study skills program in the fall. This would include teaching youngsters how to take tests.

YOUR EYES NEED TWO KINDS OF CARE...

YOURS and OURS

The next time you think about your eyes, remember your visual system is hooked directly to your brain and heart. Eye exams combined with in-depth patient histories can reveal the presence of cataracts, heart disease, nerve damage, diabetes, stroke, glaucoma, or something as simple as near-sightedness. But, if you don't set time aside for a routine annual eye exam, and be on the lookout for changes in your vision, even the best eye care professionals can't help you.

Princeton Eye Institute brings together a team of eye care specialists in one complete center. We've been serving Princeton area patients since 1956.

Our ophthalmologists, contact lens specialist, opticians and technicians work together for your total eye care — We can't do it without you.

Quarry Park Is Dropped as Potential Site For Construction of Affordable Housing

Borough Council — quietly and unofficially — has removed Quarry Park from its list of potential sites for affordable housing.

This emerged at last week's Council meeting, when it was noted that a contract for architectural services for affordable housing did not mention the park. (The contract, with Clarke, Cato & Meyers, was approved subject to availability of funds.)

The inclusion of Quarry Park in the Borough's housing program triggered a storm of protest from Princeton residents, many of whom had worked to develop the recreational facility in the east end of the Borough.

The park site, where 16 units were proposed, has not been replaced. However, the Borough is hoping to raise money through arbitrage in order to buy land for this purpose.

To this end, the Borough is planning to float a $5.7 million housing bond issue through the Mercer County Improvement Authority (MCIA) before September 1. According to new federal tax legislation, ar-bitrage may be obtained by a municipality if bonds are floated prior to this date.

Getting Financing in Gear. Mayor Barbara Sigmund is scheduled to appear before the Princeton Regional Planning Board Thursday, June 19, to present the Borough's Affordable Housing program. According to Councilman Marvin Reed, who has been working closely with the mayor on the program, a sign-off from the Planning Board is required before the MCIA will go ahead with the financing.

If everything goes according to plan, Borough Council will introduce an authorization in July enabling the MCIA to float the $5.7 million bond issue to finance the Borough's affordable housing program.

Also on the housing front, complaints from residents of the Witherspoon-Jackson area regarding the quality of repair to appear this Monday, May 23, at a public hearing of the state Affordable Housing Council to be held at Somerset County College. They will appeal the Council's decision that the Borough must provide 527 units of affordable housing between now and 1993.

Members of the Borough administration have already met with officials of the council, who invited them to review the Princeton Borough situation.

According to Mr. Reed, who was at the meeting, the Borough asked to what extent there could be possible errors in the way employment data was assigned to Princeton Borough. The officials also reviewed the council's data collection system.

"We assured them we would not attack the methodology per se," said Mr. Reed, "but we wanted to raise the question of how specific employment data is applied to the region."

The Borough has still not decided whether to proceed along the numbers path assigned by the state Council on Affordable Housing or whether to stay with the courts and Judge Eugene Serpente.

A Borough case attempting to resolve affordable housing numbers down to about 240 has been pending with Judge Serpente for two years, since the settlement of the Witherspoon Jackson Development Corporation case against the Borough and Collins Development. The Borough has the right to choose whether to stay in the courts or try its luck with the council.

Although this would not affect in any way the Borough's number of 527, Mayor Sigmund has asked the mayors of Lawrence and other neighboring townships to consider applying a percentage of their Mount Laurel II obligation toward the purchase of existing housing units in the Borough by helping to buy down properties. The municipalities would obtain funds to do this through anticipated contributions from developers. Such contributions are not on the horizon for the Borough, which has virtually no land on which developers may build.

Mr. Reed said the Council on Affordable Housing has expressed its willingness to designate Princeton Borough as a receiver municipality, thus enabling other municipalities to apply some of their numbers to the Borough.

work funded by the Neighborhood Preservation grant have been taken care of — to everyone's satisfaction, according to Borough Administrator Mark Gordon.

The third stage of the grant, another $100,000, is due from the state. However, with Michael Floyd having left Borough employ two months ago, there is no one to administer the funds.

The Borough is now advertising for a housing coordinator (priority to be given to residents of the John-Witherspoon area) to replace Mr. Floyd in administering the Neighborhood Preservation Program for the Borough and Township. He or she would also act as the Borough housing coordinator once the affordable housing program got underway.

There may be less grant money to administer this year than in previous years, however. Councilman Marvin Reed says that some neighborhood preservation money may be used to "buy down" houses in the John-Witherspoon area.

"Buy-down" is a phrase that is used to signify buying a house at market price and selling it at an "affordable" price.

TRENTON ROUNDUP

Insurance Bill Passes Assembly

By a narrow vote, the state Assembly has approved legislation to restrict punitive damages paid in insurance claims and to reform product liability laws.

Its Republican sponsors assert the measures would help reduce premiums. Assembly Democrats, however, insist the legislation would raise insurance companies' profits and hurt consumers.

The legislation would limit recompense to $5,000 for minor injuries; $100,000 for most claims; and $300,000 for permanent and catastrophic injuries.

It would end "joint and several" liability, in which a party with the most money, such as a corporation or a public entity, must pay most of the damages, even though its responsibility was only a minor part of the incident.

Another major section of the legislation would direct that manufacturers and distributors can be liable only for the level of technology existing when a product was designed.

The package of five bills will now go to the senate, where its fate is uncertain.

"Initiative and Referendum" Moves Forward

The Assembly voted 41-36 to give state voters the opportunity to initiate laws and constitutional amendments. The narrow passage, with only one Democrat voting "yes," means that, even with Senate approval this year, the question cannot go on the ballot before November 1987.

The initiative referendum would be a constitutional amendment on the November ballot only if a three-fifths majority of both houses approved it.

The controversial legislation, sponsored by Richard Zimmer, R.-Hunterdon, has been the target of months of intensive lobbying efforts on both sides. Supporters have contended the proposal would make government more democratic; opponents called it dangerous, with the potential of pitting urban vs. suburban, north vs. south, and young vs. old.

"But I Love My Cat"

A Senate committee has approved legislation preventing apartment dwellers who now have pets from being evicted or forced to give them up.

The bill would protect apartment dwellers who had cats, dogs or other domestic animals as of June 16. If the pet dies, it can be replaced. However, tenants who get a pet later, or pet owners who want to move into an apartment complex that prohibits animals, will not be protected.

The measure will now go to the full Senate for consideration.

Lemon Law Revamp

A Senate committee has approved legislation designed to improve the state's "lemon law," which is aimed at helping consumers who buy chronically defective vehicles.

Under the proposed legislation, consumers with such vehicles would be permitted to take their cases directly to small claims court, even if the total amount of money involved is more than $1,000. Attorneys would not be required.

Funding Route 1 Overpass

Assemblyman Joseph Bocchini, D-Hamilton, says he plans to introduce legislation to appropriate $7 million from the Transportation Trust Fund to cover half the cost of building an overpass at Route 1 and College Road in Plainsboro.

The remaining half would be contributed by the landowners at the intersection, including the Princeton Forrestal Center, under the provisions of an ordinance passed by Plainsboro last year.

The state Department of Transportation has expressed serious reservations about the idea. A spokeswoman said it would set a dangerous precedent if Forrestal puts up the money "and we fall behind on other state projects because we stop to construct the overpass on Route 1."

Agreement Is Reached On Teachers' Contract

The Princeton Regional Board of Education has reached tentative agreement on a new two-year contract with the Princeton Regional Education Association, the union representing the district's teachers.

The union will meet Thursday, June 12, to vote on ratification. The board's ratification vote will take place at a public meeting scheduled for July 1.

Neither party was willing to release the details of the pact until after ratification. However, Ann McGoldrick, who headed the board's negotiating team, characterized the settlement as "fair and equitable."

"The teachers didn't get everything they wanted, and we didn't get everything we wanted," she said.

clubs may not discriminate against women.

The suits, filed in Federal Court in February, contend that the clubs are private and that the state division's ruling violates their federal privacy and freedom of association rights.

Judge Cowan stayed action on the federal suits until the conclusion of state court action on Sally Frank's discrimination suit against the clubs.

Ms. Frank, '81, filed the suit against three all-male eating clubs while a junior. The third, University Cottage Club, decided to accept women this year and settled out of court with Ms. Frank.

Nassau Traffic Lights Will Be Meeting Topic

The first formal meeting of the Borough's new Traffic and Transportation Committee is expected to include a discussion of traffic lights on Nassau Street.

The Borough, some time ago, requested that the State Department of Transportation improve lights at Bayard Lane Witherspoon Street, and Harrison Street to make it easier for cars to turn and pedestrians to cross. The tentative agenda for the meeting includes an update of this request.

Abbot Low Moffat, committee chairman, has appointed a sub-committee to deal with transportation concerns. Philip Fraulino of Spruce Street, one of the committee's seven members, has been named to head the sub-committee.

The first meeting is scheduled for Wednesday, June 25, at 8 p.m. at Borough Hall. Residents who have specific concerns or suggestions in the area of safety, traffic and trans-

Borough Driver Charged With Drug Possession

Twenty-one-year-old David Coy of Leigh Avenue has been charged by Borough police with possession of hashish and cocaine and with drug paraphernalia following his arrest early Friday morning. Later released, Coy is scheduled to appear in Borough court July 16.

Coy was pursued down John Street by Ptl. William Nathan after he had pulled out in front of the officer's patrol car on Paul Robeson Place, nearly causing an accident at 1:24 in the morning. Ptl. Nathan observed the driver open his car door and drop two items on the roadway before he stopped the car near Quarry Street.

After calling for police backup, Ptl. Nathan returned to the area where he saw the car door opened and recovered a cellophane bag suspected to contain hashish. Next to the bag, he found a substance, believed to be cocaine, wrapped in white paper.

During a search of the car, police uncovered a piece of a mirror and a razor blade — items, police said, used to cut and snort lines of coke.

Shoplifter Charged. Michael D. Jordan, 29, of Trenton, has been charged with shoplifting items from Woolworth's and Princeton Army-Navy Store.

According to police, he was observed by another store owner removing clothing from a display rack in front of the Army-Navy Store on Witherspoon Street. He provided police with a description and the Merchant Alert Plan was activated to warn other stores.

A short time later, Jordan was seen by Det. Randy Sutton and Ptl. Bernard Lenhardt leaving Woolworth's on Nassau Street, carrying a brown shopping bag. Det. Sutton approached and explained why he was a suspect.

A subsequent search of the bag revealed that it contained four pairs of men's shorts valued at $16 each, stolen from the Army-Navy store; also, two Black & Decker dusters valued at $24.99 each and a $8.99 shirt taken from Woolworth's.

Jordan was arrested, charged and later released. He is scheduled to appear in Borough court this Wednesday.

Defiant Trespasser. A West Windsor resident, Michael Richards, 21, of Fieldstone Road, has been charged by Borough police as a defiant trespasser.

He was arrested last Wednesday morning for trespassing in the Engineering Quadrangle on Olden Street by Proctor Kenneth Samuel, after he had been previously warned about trespassing on university property.

An investigation by Proctor Samuel revealed that Richards had been living in an abandoned house that had been moved onto the university campus to make room for the expansion of Davidson's Market in the former Princeton Volvo building at 255 Nassau.

Richards was processed, charged by Ptl. Ronald Wohl-schlegel and released.

Car and Cyclist Collide; Hedge Blamed by Driver

A 1985 VW and an eight-year-old bicyclist collided at 5:39 Friday evening. Afterwards the driver told police he never saw the victim because of a high hedge.

The driver, David M. Earkawe, 23, of Mountain View, Ca., was exiting from a driveway at 321 Witherspoon Street, and, as he pulled across the sidewalk, the cyclist, John P. Schmierer of 465 Walnut Lane, slammed into his driver's side door.

Mr. Earkawe told Ptl. John Petrone Jr. that he never saw the youth because of a high hedge along the sidewalk leading up to the driveway. He was issued a summons for improperly entering a roadway.

The cyclist, who also told Ptl. Petrone that he never saw the car, was treated at Princeton Medical Center for contusions and abrasions of the face and legs.

"...and That Will Be $18,856:" Borough Puts Hold on Nassau Inn

The Borough is holding up a permanent certificate of occupancy for the Nassau Inn until the bill is paid. Borough Council says a deal's a deal, and Bowers owes the money. And Raymond A. Bowers, chairman of the board of Lewis C. Bowers and Sons, says he is "aghast" at getting a parking bill for $18,856 from the Borough for parking during construction of the Nassau Inn's new wing.

In a letter to Mayor Barbara Sigmund distributed at last week's meeting of Borough Council, Mr. Bowers wrote that this is the first time his company has encountered such a charge — and it has worked practically all over the United States and in many major cities.

Mr. Bowers continued, "The general acknowledgement throughout all areas we have worked for the past 50 years is that we are performing a service in the community which requires access in and out of the project, particularly one as tight as the Nassau Inn addition, and are developing a ratable extremely valuable to the municipality."

He concluded by asking for release from such a charge. But the Borough appeared less than sympathetic.

Borough Engineer Carl Peters said the Bowers company was allowed to close Palmer Square East only if it agreed to pay for those meters put out of commission. The initial request, said Mr. Peters, was for a 45-60 day closing of the street, "but they closed for a much longer period of time." Mr. Peters assured Mayor and Council that there was documentation of this agreement, and Mayor Sigmund asked to see it.

A total of 16 meters are involved. Of these, the Borough shows that 12 were out of service for a 16-month period, from June, 1984, to October, 1985. The others were unusable for much shorter periods of time.

3-Member Committee Meets Without Mayor

It was business as usual for Township Committee last Monday night, except that Committeeman William Cherry was sitting in the mayor's chair with only Committee members Tom Poole and Carol Wojciechowicz sitting either side of him.

Township Mayor Winthrop S. Pike has been confined to Princeton Medical Center since suffering what is described as a "minor" heart attack June 9. Mayor Pike's condition was listed Tuesday afternoon as "good," — meaning that his vital signs were stable and all indicators were "excellent" — and he had been moved to a regular medical floor. Deputy Mayor Gail Firestone is away until the end of the month.

Mr. Cherry announced that Browning Ferris Industries (BFI) had notified the Township that it wishes to discontinue individual garbage collection from some 300 Township residents. According to the Township Engineer's office, BFI wants to eliminate individual collection and re-structure itself for expanded municipal collection. It could then be in a position to bid competitively for the Township — and Borough — municipal collection currently being handled by National Waste Disposal of Ewing Township.

A letter has been sent to the 300 residents giving them names of other collectors and advising them of how they might form a municipal collection district or become part of an existing district.

Miscellaneous Agenda. With Mr. Poole or Mrs. Wojciechowicz making the motions, and Mrs. Wojciechowicz or Mr. Poole seconding them, the three-member Committee worked its way through an agenda of largely routine items. They unanimously approved an agreement between Princeton Community Housing and the Township for PCH to construct 280 units of housing on the Peterson tract, 140 of which will be sold or rented to low- and moderate-income families as part of the Township's Mount Laurel obligation to provide such housing.

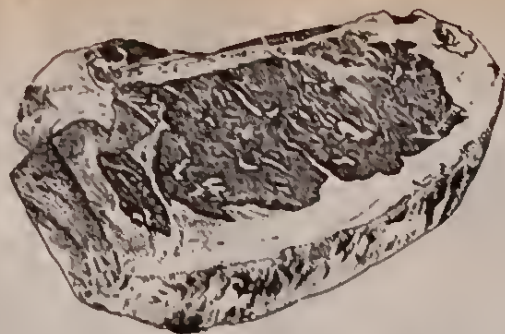

The agreement stipulates that PCH will make a payment in lieu of taxes in consideration for police, fire and other municipal services. The Township will make every effort to provide a new sanitary sewer line to the Stony Brook Regional Sewerage Authority treatment plant within six months of the completion of phase I, due some time in the spring of 1988. Meanwhile the Township has reserved its entire remaining allocation in the Montgomery-Rocky Hill sewer treatment plant for the project.

The Township is also applying to the New Jersey Mortgage Finance Agency for funds with which to pay for the construction of the new sewer line and necessary pump station, and the construction of road improvements that may be needed by the project.

In other business, Committee introduced an ordinance requiring dual smoke detector systems (one electrically wired and the other battery-operated) in all new residential construction after January 1. In addition, the ordinance requires installation of a battery back-up smoke detector in existing residential structures of three or more units.

Public hearing. The public hearing on this ordinance was set for Monday, July 7, when another ordinance amending certain parking and speed limit regulations will also be up for public hearing before final adoption. A copy of each ordinance is posted in the hall outside the meeting room in the Valley Road building.

Mrs. Lawrence Norris Kerr asked Township Committee to approve a proposed design for a canoe rental facility for Turning Basin. Mrs. Kerr told Committee that she is worried that the Greenacres funding for the project may be withdrawn because of the delay. With the help of the Township engineer, a group of citizens has been planning additional amenities for the park using monies that once were going to have to go to build a bridge on the towpath to provide a canoe outlet for the recently dredged turning basin.

Township Files Appeal In Institute Tax Decision

Princeton Township has filed an appeal in Superior Court, Appellate Division of a lower court's decision to allow tax exemption for housing at the Institute for Advanced Study. The housing has been assessed at $7.6 million, and loss of that ratable will cost the Township some $180,000 in tax revenue.

The appeal had been expected, and, according to Township Attorney Edwin W. Schmierer, it was filed June 9. A transcript of the proceedings before Judge Lawrence Lasser of the N.J. Tax Court must be prepared, as well as briefs by attorneys for both sides before the appeal is heard.

Exemptions Are Sought From SOC to Sewer Ban

The Sewer Operating Committee has scheduled a special meeting Wednesday, June 25, at 8 p.m. in Borough Hall to hear developer Benedict Yedlin's request for an exemption to the sewer moratorium for his Andrews-Foulet development.

Mr. Yedlin protested, to the state Administrative Office of the Courts, the state Department of Environmental Protection's imposition of a sewer ban after he had received site plan and subdivision approval but before he received a sewer connection permit. By a consent agreement, he received permission to construct a temporary sewage holding tank for the project, pending sewer repairs designed to relieve the overflows that led to the ban.

Mr. Yedlin was required to get approval of the holding tank as a sewer bypass system in times of heavy rains and high groundwater from the "appropriate" municipal agencies, and he spent many night meetings seeking that approval from the Planning Board, the Health Commission and the SOC.

Now that the SOC has agreed to recommend to the DEP that it waive the sewer connection ban for the phased construction of Collins Development's proposals for Hulfish North, Mr. Yedlin seeks similar relief so he won't have to construct his sewage holding tank. Collins sought a waiver on the grounds of financial hardship; Mr. Yedlin may also claim that the amount of money he has invested in preparation of the site on Cherry Hill Road, without being able to reap final payment from prospective homeowners because of a lack of sewer connection, constitutes financial hardship.

Other Requests. The request of 100 Thanet Associates, of which Joseph Jingoli is a principal, for a sewer ban exemption was scheduled to be heard June 11, but the applicant did

New Jersey Second in Total Funds Raised for Hands Across America

An estimated 5,602,960 people took part in the Hands Across America route between New York and Long Beach, Calif., on May 25. An estimated additional 1.5 million participants linked hands in the off-route states, according to the Hands Across America organizers.

"Although there were physical gaps in the line, the important point is that we were linked in spirit on the issues of hunger and homelessness," remarked Ken Kragen, organizer of the project. The areas of the gaps were not specified, but it was noted that thousands of people stood in line in the desert areas despite the medical warnings and HAA's attempts to close these areas.

Mr. Kragen said that continued news coverage of the issues was almost more important than the money raised. "The ongoing media attention will help to remind the American public that these problems will not go away without their involvement," he said.

With hopes of raising at least $50 million, the event has brought in a gross total of $36,444,533 through pledges and contributions as of June 9. To date, $27.8 million has actually been received in cash, with another $8.6 million outstanding in pledges. Donations are still coming in on the toll-free number 1-800-USA-9000, which will be active through the remainder of 1986.

Other revenue is expected through the sales of Hands Across America merchandise, a book about the event to be released later this summer, a television special and a variety of continuing corporate programs. Direct operating expenses, which were budgeted as high as $14 million, were less than $12 million as of June 9. The cost of the response fulfillment system, including premium merchandise, telemarketing and mailings are estimated to add another $4-$5 million.

New Jersey was second to California in the total amount raised and pledged and ranked among the top 17 states in the number of participants with an estimated 200,000 people taking part. Ohio had the most participants, with 901,960.

not show up. The request will be heard at the SOC's regular meeting on August 13 instead. In related business, Township resident Dwight O. North has requested that Township Committee veto the SOC's recommendation of a waiver for Collins Development. The Environmental Commission is also preparing a letter to Township Committee asking that the recommendation be vetoed, according to its chairman Peggy McNeill.

Neither Mr. North nor Mrs. McNeill places much faith in the multi-million dollar sewer rehabilitation program to relieve the overflowing manholes. Mrs. McNeill further points out that the DEP has not yet approved the rehabilitation plan, and there could be delays in getting started on the replacement of trunklines designed to take the new sewage from these developments.

Both cite a clause in DEP regulations and a Township health code prohibiting the pollution by raw sewage as the basis for their veto request. Township Attorney Edwin W. Schmieder was asked to give his opinion as to whether Township Committee can legally veto the decision of an agency which has been empowered by it to perform certain municipal functions.

Meanwhile, Martin Dorward, SOC manager, expressed optimism that the state DEP will approve the rehabilitation plan. Having been convinced at the hearing held here on the subject that Princeton residents are not unduly concerned about a plan that allows two design overflows, DEP officials are presently drawing up a new permit to allow those overflows, Mr. Dorward says.

However, state DEP officials have taken the matter to federal Environmental Protection Agency officials, and Mr. Dorward is somewhat concerned that the EPA, unfamiliar with the local situation, may not approve. He is keeping his fingers crossed.

Elm Court Invitation

Princeton Community Housing and the residents of Elm Court invite all members of the community to celebrate the opening of Elm Court Sunday from 4 to 6.

Elsa Boper, an Elm Court resident, is coordinating the refreshments and residents are preparing food representing their lands of origin. There will be a display of arts and crafts as well as an opportunity to view the building, the courtyard and gardens.

$50, and a 28- by 40-inch lithograph entitled, The Sunday Guest, a red, green, blue and yellow abstract in a black frame, valued at $2,000, were stolen from a hallway in Edwards Hall.

The victim, a university student, told police that he was moving his belongings from his room and had left them in the hall while he went out to dinner. They were gone when he returned four hours later.

The pastries — six coffee rolls, three dozen doughnuts and six dozen bagels — were stolen between 3 and 4 in the morning from in front of the Wawa Store on Nassau Street where they had been left by deliverymen. They were valued at $42.90.

week behind the Quadrangle Club was entered, and a camera, carrying case and attachments, worth a combined $330, were stolen. Police report the car was locked but there were no signs of forced entry.

The 1984 Toyota of a Princeton resident was entered last week by way of its trunk while it was parked during daylight hours on Vandeventer Avenue near Spring Street. Stolen were a telephone answering machine, 12 cassette tapes, two venetian blinds, and a woman's white, three-quarter length wool coat. Total loss: $505.

A man's bicycle with a combination lock attached, valued at $110, was stolen last week from the rear yard of its Nassau Street owner (near Princeton Avenue) and a front wheel and tire valued at $85 were removed from the bicycle of a Princeton High student while it was parked on the east lawn of the school.

Cars Entered in Township

Two cars were entered last week while parked on Juniper Row in Princeton Community Village. In each instance a window had been smashed to gain access.

Taken from a 1978 Ford were a CB unit and antenna, leaving the owner with a $172.50 bill for theft and damages; from a 1978 Chevrolet, four speakers worth $60. Capt. Jack Petrone commented that such thefts are almost a weekly occurrence in the area. The first victim was a Borough resident visiting PCV.

A rear passenger window was broken overnight last week to enter a car parked on Redding Circle. Taken was an emergency flashlight valued at $20. An unlocked boy's dirt bike valued at $110 was taken from 23 Redding Circle where it had been left in front of the house.

A $200 radar detector was removed from a 1984 station wagon while it was parked last week near the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad building on Harrison Street. The victim, a member of the Rescue Squad, told police that he wasn't sure if his car had been locked or not.

pushing and shoving allegedly involved during an argument, Township police said, with Sabrena Jinks, 26, of Allentown, whom they identified as Tkacs' girl friend.

The criminal mischief complaint stemmed from a charge that Tkacs had damaged Ms. Jinks' car. All three complaints were signed by Ptl. Robert Nielsen.

Tkacs was arraigned before Judge Sydney Souter and held in $1,500 bail. The next day, Judge Souter reduced bail to $500 and rescheduled Tkacs' court hearing for August 28.

Alcohol Possession. Four young area residents, aged 18 and 19, have been charged by Township police with possession of alcohol while under the legal age of 21. They were identified as William Strawderman, Joel Winer and Jill Scheidnager, all of Belle Mead, and Christopher Ciaco of Skillman.

The four were seen, carrying two cardboard boxes, at 11:45 in the evening, in the Battlefield Park area off Mercer Road, by Ptl. John Seeley Jr. on patrol. When approached by police, the four dropped the boxes and ran. They contained, police said, a full case of beer bottles.

The four suspects were arrested and taken to police headquarters and later released. All have a June 24 date in Township court.

Pied Piper Collared. Fauzi Ghantous, 29, of North Bergen, was arrested last week by police who charged him with selling ice cream in the Bunn Drive area without first obtaining a permit.

Ghantous, an employee of Pied Piper, Inc., told police that he had obtained a Borough permit and thought he was inside the Borough boundary. Township police report Ghantous had been warned on previous dates for soliciting without a permit, a violation of a Township ordinance.

Asks Car Ahead to Move, Gets Beer Bath Instead

Had the Marion Road resident known the occupants of the car ahead were drinking, perhaps he might have hesitated before blowing his horn.

Earlier this month, the Township resident was driving on Princeton-Kingston Road around 10:20 in the evening when he attempted to turn left onto Shady Brook Lane. The car ahead, however, a silver Mazda, made a U-turn in front of his car and blocked his path. The driver blew his horn and shouted for the car ahead to move.

With that, two occupants of the Mazda emerged and ran up to the victim's car, carrying beer. They shouted obscenities and appeared to be intoxicated, the victim later told police.

The two poured beer over the victim's T-shirt and the interior of his car. Before returning to their own car, which then continued south on Princeton-Kingston Road toward Princeton, one of the two hurled a beer bottle at the victim's car.

The two suspects were described by the victim as thin black males in their late 20s. One was about 5-7, wearing a maroon sweat shirt and pants; the second was about six feet tall.

He described a third suspect in the car as a black male, 6-3, 190 pounds, also in his late 20s, wearing a light blue shirt.

If at First You Don't... Home Is Targeted Twice

A home on Birch Avenue was the target of persistent thieves last week — probably juveniles, in the opinion of Township police.

The first day, between 3:30 and 5:30 in the afternoon, someone placed a milk crate under a rear window. After ripping the screen, police said, the would-be intruder was able to raise the window only eight inches and no entry was made.

The following day a garbage can was used to aid in entering the same house. This time another screen had been cut with a kitchen knife. Stolen were 19 silver dollars and two pairs of earrings from a bedroom. Their value: $90.

Ptl. David Leiggi is investigating.

A home on Fitzrandolph Road in the Borough was entered last week by opening an outside patio door, cutting a screen and reaching in and opening an interior door.

The only item stolen, police said, was a $250 camera from a desk top in a reading room.

Speeding Fines Assessed In Borough Traffic Court

Three Princeton-area residents were fined Monday in Borough traffic court for speeding.

They are Wojciech Naezas, 127 Moore Street and Gulu Kirpalani, 8 Bouvant Drive, both $60, and Michael D. Melillo, 18 Melvina Drive, Lawrenceville, $70. Alvin Goodman, 52 Marion Road W. paid $60 for a stop sign violation.

In Township court last week, Larry I. Davies of Trenton, also known as Robert Bailey was sentenced to a year in the Mercer County Correction Center for shoplifting and receiving movable property.

Davies is alleged to have shoplifted four pairs of men's briefs from the Acme Market in the Princeton Shopping Center. At the time of his arrest, he had in his possession six cartons of cigarettes and a collection of sunglasses allegedly stolen from the other stores.

More Windows Broken At School, Eating Club

Another week and more reports of broken windows in the police docket.

A school janitor reported a broken window on the north side of Community Park School next to the cafeteria.

In the Borough, two stones were hurled through two six-by-ten-inch windows of the Terrace Club on Washington Road.

There was no estimate of the replacement cost in either incident.

Council Candidate Ilits Lack of Common Sense

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Every aspirant for elective office is asked "why are you a candidate?" I can think of no more fitting reply regarding my own candidacy than to cite the Princeton Borough Council's resolution on the Simultaneous Nuclear Test Ban Act as illustrative of the reason why I accepted my party's invitation to run for Borough Council.

I will not debate the correctness of the Council's action. I do, however, challenge its appropriateness.

What does it say about an institution which, having failed to control crime on its own streets, denies the problem while offering advice to the national government on keeping international peace? On issue after issue, the majority party on council has chosen positions that are ideologically consistent, but consistently injurious to the best interest of the taxpayers of Princeton Borough.

I believe that elected officials have a duty to those who elect them to simply and with dignity apply themselves to the practical problems at hand on that level of Government to which they are elected. I believe that elected officials serve best when they serve the interests of their electorate rather than any abstract philosophy or social cause. My approach may lack glamour but it does less harm in the long run to the public good, while preserving what remains of public confidence in government.

I salute councilman Woodbridge for having the courage time after time to abstain from fatuous gestures and vote against bad ordinances. My running mate and I hope to join him in returning common sense to Borough Council. To this end we will personally meet with voters to better understand what is really the public agenda.

THOMAS O. MEEHAN
Candidate for Princeton Borough Council

Participants Are Thanked By Chairman of Parade

To the Editor of Town Topics:

On behalf of Princeton Post 76 American Legion, I wish to take this opportunity to thank Princeton Borough Mayor Barbara B. Sigmund, Princeton Township Mayor Winthrop S. Pike and their officials who helped make possible the Memorial Day parade honoring our war dead.

Our thanks to Colonel Donald Griffin for acting as Honorary Parade Marshal, the 19th U.S. Army Band from Fort Dix, the Marching Unit of the 5th Brigade, 1st Battalion of Fort Dix, Captain and Mrs. John Patricia and their "Special Parade" car, Post 76 Color Guard and Firing Squad under the command of Maurice Benedetti, the President of the American Legion Auxiliary of Post 76, Betty Kostue and her committee, and Leonard Walker for the P.A. system that was used at the Monument for our services there, the Mercer County American Legion Posts who took part in our services and to your newspaper for the excellent coverage you gave us.

Thanks to all the organizations who participated and to those who attended the parade and ceremonies at the Monument and the Military Mass at St. Paul's Church.

D. DON RICHARDS
Chairman

Many Deserve Thanks For Success of '86 Fete

To the Editors of Town Topics:

Where do you begin with such a wonderful community as ours to say "thank you" for the success of Saturday's Calypso Fete?

We are extremely grateful for the dedication and boundless energy of our volunteers who contributed their time and skills, for the generosity and good cheer of all the local merchants who donated their goods and services, and for the community at large who came out to celebrate at the 33rd Annual June Fete.

Thank you all for making Calypso '86 a memorable day, and for continuing to support the Medical Center of Princeton.

$2.75 Million Bequest From Princeton Resident

Princeton has received $2.75 million from the estate of Wheaton J. Lane, a Princeton resident who died in November, 1983. The income from $2.6 million of the bequest will be used for the general purposes of the university's Firestone Library. Income from the remaining $155,000 will be used to purchase books relating to history or political science.

Mr. Lane left an additional $10,000 to the university chapel and also bequeathed to the university a portrait of Jonathan Belcher, governor of the province of New Jersey from 1747 to 1757. Governor Belcher granted Princeton its second charter after the legality of the original charter was questioned, and he is believed to be the library's oldest benefactor, having given the college his library of 474 volumes. Gov. Belcher's family arms are carved in stone, along with the arms of the university, over the main entrance of Firestone Library.

A member of the Class of 1925 at Princeton, Mr. Lane majored in history and was a member of Whig Hall and Arbor Inn. He received an M.A. from Yale and a Ph.D. from Princeton in 1935. Mr. Lane taught history at the University of Maine, New York University and Princeton, and served as a commander in the Coast Guard during World War II.

He was the author of From Indian Train to Iron Horse, Commodore Vanderbilt, and Pictorial History of Princeton.

He served as secretary of the Nassau Club in Princeton and as treasurer of the Society of American Historians.

Bucket Truck in Store To Prune Borough Trees

Borough Council last week

approved an $80,000 bond ordinance that would be used to purchase a bucket truck. The truck would enable public service crews to trim Princeton's tall trees, many of which have gone without pruning because of the difficulty of reaching the top.

Council also approved the appointment of Joseph O'Neill as a regular member of the Princeton Regional Planning Board. He replaces Susan Hillier, who has moved out of town. Mary Ellen Marino was named an alternate member.

Richard W. Baker Jr. of Armour Road spoke to Council about his proposal for the creation of an auxiliary police force in the Princeton area.

Police Chief Michael Carnevale said the state allows auxiliary police to be deployed only in an absolute emergency. However, he said that persons within communities may go out in private cars equipped with CB radios. Although not allowed to be in uniform or carry a short night stick, as Mr. Baker had recommended, these patrols would be allowed to communicate any problems to a CB at police headquarters.

The police chief said he would be delighted to talk further with Mr. Baker if citizens were interested in pursuing the idea.

Topics of the Town

At the meeting, a resident of Linden Lane, John de Grazia, asked Council for an ordinance that would bar commercial vehicles from residential streets.

He said that, for years, articulated trucks as high as two stories have parked on Linden Lane, where they have hurt trees and sidewalks. Mr. de Grazia would like to see such vehicles barred from residential streets unless they were pursuing their avowed occupation.

Zoning Officer Frank Slimak will be asked to study this situation and report his findings to Council in late July.

Roebling Mansion Sale Will Be Public Auction

Landfall, the 22-room stone mansion that was built in 1928 for Robert Roebling, will be sold at public auction for the second time in slightly more than a year.

Max E. Spann Realtors and Auctioneers of Bedminster will conduct the sale on Wednesday evening, June 25, at 7:30 p.m. at the property on Princeton-Lawrenceville Road. In partnership with three other investors, Mr. Spann purchased the 20 acres at an auction in March, 1985 for $1,250,000. That auction was a quiet and almost private affair, in comparison with the wide-ranging publicity and elaborate arrangements to show the house off to its best advantage that accompany this sale.

A Belle Mead interior decorator and a Lawrenceville carpet store have been busy furnishing the living room and dining room in the main house in time for an invitation-only pre-

ARE THERE ANY TAKERS? There is an old world ambience to this twenty-acre estate, with its cobblestone entry courtyard to a 22-room stone mansion with stone stable and garage. Built in 1928 by Robert Roebling, the yacht-racing son of the family that designed and built the Brooklyn Bridge, Landfall will be auctioned Wednesday, June 25, at 7:30 to the highest bidder with ready cash and no contingency demands.

view for some 75 potential buyers last Tuesday evening. Max E. Spann provided a full-color brochure describing the property in detail and listing the terms and conditions of sale.

The main residence is a stone structure, a mixture of Tudor and Norman styles. Built to last, of steel, wood and concrete framing, the house has eight family bedrooms, seven full baths, four half-baths, and seven fireplaces. The Great Hall (20' x 34') on the first floor features a handpainted beamed ceiling and a baronial fireplace with a bas relief of the Brooklyn Bridge in cast stone on the mantel.

There is, in the words of the brochure, an "extraordinary" limestone circular stair that ascends to the second floor where the master suite has a 14' x 18' sitting room with bath and concealed storage behind oak paneling and a master bedroom with crystal chandelier and fireplace. Among the many family bedrooms is one that is octagonal — above the octagonal breakfast room.

Surrounded by terrace and patios, a walled garden 100 feet long, and a swimming pool, the house is reached by a long drive leading to a cobblestone courtyard. The property includes a circular stone pump house and stone storage and stable buildings. There is a three-bedroom caretaker's apartment above the three-car garage.

According to Elizabeth Petrillo, vice president and head of Spann's auction department, Mr. Spann and his partners were never interested in the property as a long-term investment and always intended to re-sell it within a year. Ms. Petrillo says there has been considerable interest in the property, as a residence or as a private educational facility.

However, offers to buy were conditioned on contingencies, such as obtaining zoning or planning approval, and the partnership did not want to become involved in that process. Hence the decision to sell at auction. The property is zoned single-family residential

The successful bidder must put down a $200,000 deposit at the time and place of the aucin cash within 45 days. The Purchase Is Announced Of Apartment Complex

Princeton University has purchased the 120-unit
Millstone River Apartments
from American Midland Corporation, owner-manager of the eight-building apartment complex and the adjacent Holiday Inn.

The transaction will return to the university control of the 10-acre site, which had been leased in 1961 for the construction of the apartments. The site is contiguous to Princeton For-estal Center and offers a supply of conveniently located housing that could one day be allocated to university personnel.

According to University
Housing Director S.T. Miller,
"There are no plans for the university to initiate any terminations of existing leases in the Millstone River Apartments.
Any transition from non-university to university tenants will take place only as existing tenants terminate their current leases," he added.

Situated on Lake Road just behind and slightly west of the Holiday Inn off Route 1, the Millstone River Apartments
consist of eight two-story garden apartment buildings, each containing 15 apartments (nine efficiencies, five one-bedroom, and one two-bedroom). The Holiday Inn, which is located on an adjoining five acres leased
from the University, has 102
guest rooms, a restaurant, bar
and some meeting/banquet space.

American Midland will continue to own and operate the Holiday Inn. Both properties are more than 20 years old.

Battle of Princeton Topic Of Talk Set for July 4

The Princeton Battlefield Area Preservation Society will sponsor a talk on the Battle of Princeton on Friday morning,
July 4, at 10 a.m.

Richard W. Baker Jr., president of the Society, will discuss the events leading to the Battle of Princeton, what happened on January 3, 1777, and the significance for the American Revolutionary War. The talk will be held at the flagpole in Battlefield Park, Mercer Road, and will last for about 30 minutes so as not to interfere with the events taking place in New York City on that day.

The public is invited. Clarke House, where General Hugh Mercer died nine days after the Battle, will be open for visitors.

Katie Sugahara of N.Y. Is Car Winner at Fete

The 1986 Chrysler LeBaron convertible was won by Katie Sugahara of West Chester, New York, whose winning ticket was purchased late Saturday by her boyfriend. His mother, Gail Clough of Belle Mead, has been active in the Fete for many years.

The four winners of the $200
shopping spree were Jonathon
Zissman of Princeton, Helene
Pugliese of Staten Island, Mary Bladen of Waldwick, and Behnam Kristal of New York City.

During the warm and sunny day, close to 15,000 cans of soda, beer, wine and mineral water were consumed, along with 5,500 hamburgers and hot dogs, 2,500 pieces of barbecued
chicken, and countless strawberry shortcakes.

The Fete's gross proceeds totalled approximately $240,000.
After expenses, the remainder will be used to purchase equipment for the Medical Center at Princeton.

Co-chairmen for next year's Fete, the 34th, have been announced. They are Carole Lem-

Two Alternative Plans Will Be Presented For Development of Nassau-Maple Corner

At a Planning Board work session Thursday night, E.R. Keller & Company will unveil two alternatives for the development of the corner of Nassau and Maple Streets. The board meets at 7:30 in the Valley Road building, Witherspoon Street entrance, but reports and approval of minutes are scheduled for the first hour.

One of Mr. Keller's proposed schemes makes use of an existing stone building, currently serving as a gas station, by converting it to bank use, and it also converts the three-story Victorian dwelling Mr. Keller saved from demolition across the way to commercial use on the first and second floors with an apartment above. The house stood next to the Volvo dealership which will become David-son's Market and was moved to nearby University property temporarily.

The other scheme would clear the site completely to make way for an entirely new building for bank and commercial use, with parking underneath. Both concepts would result in some 5,000 square feet of development, but there would be no residential space created in the new structure.

In his memo to the Planning Board, Planning Director Dugan Kimball points out that the first scheme would require the granting of five variances to zoning requirements for such things as setbacks, lot coverage and parking. He also notes that the Borough's new "adopt-a-house" ordinance, designed to make it easier to save old buildings, may permit such waivers, but adds that he has not yet seen the ordinance.

Focus on House. In the first scheme, the Victorian house would be placed right up against the sidewalk at right angles to the gas station-turned-bank building. The applicant would seek a waiver of six of the 14 required parking spaces.

The second scheme presents no variance requirements, and Mr. Kimball thinks it would permit "a more integrated design fitted to the site and the neighborhood." But, he asks, what would happen to the Victorian house now stored on University grounds? As a third scheme he suggests removing the stone gas station and placing the house centrally on the lot with whatever additions may be commercially necessary within the zoning.

Pretty Brook Returns. CPR Associates, the Houston, Tex., partnership of Cheung Chen and John Peterson, will return for a second concept review of their proposal to subdivide 334 acres in the northwest Township into 50 lots for single-family homes. The land was formerly owned by Princeton University and was the subject of litigation when the Township, acting on 1980 Master Plan recommendations, reduced the permitted density by half.

Neighbors on Drakes Corner and Cherry Valley Roads expressed concern about the traffic that would be generated by the subdivision when the plans were originally proposed. The revised plans on file at the Planning Board do not differ substantially from the original proposal except in the location of additional culs-de-sac off Drakes Corner Road instead of Province Line Road.

Meanwhile, new plans were filed this week by the deMenil Trust for a 40-lot subdivision on 109 acres abutting the CPR Associates project and the Township's Woodfield Reservation. The developer in this application proposes a private road extending into the development, from which five culs-de-sac would service the 40 new lots.

This application has just been received, and no date has been set for review by either the Planning Board or the Site Plan Review Advisory Board.

77th Season of Operation For Blairstown Camp

The Princeton Summer Camp, a program of the Princeton Education Center at Blairstown now in its 77th year, will operate several sessions of its programs between July 7 and August 14.

Staff members are trained professionals, assisted by experienced outdoor leaders from Princeton University. Campers come primarily from the center-city areas of Trenton, Princeton, Newark, Philadelphia and New York City.

Boys and girls 14 and 15 years old will participate in the first year of the Horizon Program, offered by the Blairstown Center on a year-round basis. Campers will spend 18 days at Blairstown this summer, engaging in activities such as ropes courses, rappelling and backpacking; they will also strengthen their basic academic skills during their stay.

During the school year students will meet on a regular basis with leaders from their high schools, churches and community agencies. Campers will return to Blairstown for further outdoor adventures during the following two summers.

Youngsters aged 10-13 will attend the Sunrise Program, a more traditional 12-day camp.

Conference Will Focus On Historic Preservation

Preservation New Jersey, the state-wide historic preservation organization, will hold its annual conference on Saturday, June 28, at the Lawrenceville School.

Titled, "Preserving Your Investment in History: Practical Approaches to Older Properties," the conference will focus on providing information about preservation philosophies and techniques to homeowners and others who own or are interested in older buildings.

The conference will begin with an overview of basic concepts and techniques and then will focus on various restoration challenges and the resources available to tackle them. Three specific areas will be covered in depth: the research and reproduction of original interior and exterior finishes, the restoration of windows, and the analysis and development of historic gardens and landscaping.

Following the formal program, there will be a walking tour of the Lawrenceville campus, recently designated by the National Park Service as a National Historic Landmark. One of the best-preserved private educational institutions in the nation, the school displays the work of Boston architects Peabody and Stearns and the landscaping of Frederick Law Olmstead.

Registration for the all-day conference is $25 for Preservation New Jersey members and $35 for non-members. A box lunch can be ordered in advance. Call (201) 359-4537 for information.

Development

The 17-acre tract is bisected by the Stuart Road extension right-of-way. This is the as-yet-unbuilt Road A on the Master Plan circulation element, extending from Terhune Road across Mt. Lucas all the way to Route 206, directly opposite the logical extension of Stuart Road were it to be extended from Cherry Hill Road to Route 206.

The Transco Pipe Line also cuts a wide swatch diagonally across the tract. Despite these various constraints to development, Edmund Wilson of the Hillier Group, who is the architect for the project for Dr. and Mrs. Lowe, has managed to tuck in four good-sized office buildings, each with its own parking lot, and will seek site plan and subdivision approval from the Planning Board.

As Mr. Wilson outlined the proposal last week, the applicant would construct Stuart Road from Bunn Drive to the point where it would be used by this project and no further. Mr. Wilson said that an agreement has been reached with Princeton Community Housing permitting storm water runoff to be funneled into the Princeton Community Village detention basin across Bunn Drive, provided the applicant undertake any modifications and maintenance. Because of this agreement the applicant will not have to construct a detention basin and cause further disturbance to the site, it was pointed out.

The 129,000 square feet of office space proposed is within the floor-area ratio and bulk limitations of the OR (office-research) zone, Mr. Wilson remarked, and the development would not encroach on the required 150-foot buffer between it and the residences along Mt. Lucas Road. The applicant seeks waiver of a requirement to provide loading docks, on the grounds that they will not be necessary and construction would displace parking and further disturb the site.

Blasting is an issue. Mr. Wilson apologized that a soils analysis undertaken by the applicant had not been delivered to the board, but on the basis of this analysis maintained that blasting "probably will not be required." He said that if field conditions should indicate a need for blasting, the applicant was willing to file the necessary plan with the Township engineer.

Upon learning that the Flood Control Commission report on the adequacy of the storm water detention plan had not been received, SPRAB member Baruch Boxer, who is a member of the Environmental Commission, complained that issues such as surface drainage and run-off were "being swept under the rug." Mr. Boxer spoke of his familiarity with the Ridge and said that the cost override for the Redding Terrace development went into the "millions" because of the great quantity of huge boulders and the need for blasting that had not been foreseen by the developer.

"I'm very disturbed with the casualness with which these matters are being addressed by the applicant," Mr. Boxer said. "This is a major development. Fifteen years ago we did not have the information, the proof, that this is an almost impossible area to develop. I'm concerned that we are not devoting adequate discussion to these problems."

Mr. Wilson countered by saying he had never maintained that this was an easy site to develop, but added that "anything can be engineered." Robert M. Engelbrecht, an architect and SPRAB member, also questioned the adequacy of two soil borings per building, which formed the basis of the soils analysis that indicated blasting would not be required if excavation did not extend below a certain level. Mr. Engelbrecht seemed to think that it would be necessary, given the slope of the land, to excavate below that point for some of the buildings, even though none would have basements, and he pointed out that the parking lots were also going to require excavation.

Robert von Zumbusch, SPRAB chairman, was concerned with the amount and density of the buffer along the parking lots at the edges of the development. Members also agreed that they should research the question of what kind of light fixtures in a parking lot are aesthetically the most pleasing while at the same time affording the security that is desired. Mercury vapor, which Mr. Wilson described as "very inefficient, ugly and distorting to color," is favored by the Planning Board and the Township Engineer over the yellowish-pinkish light cast by a high pressure sodium fixture.

Road Improvements. Assistant Township Engineer Peter Kneski, said that the one-day traffic count provided by the applicant was not sufficient to assess the road improvements required by traffic generated in this and other area development. That one-day count, however, apparently indicated that a traffic light will be needed at the intersection of North Harrison Street and Bunn Drive, along with a left turn lane for south-bound traffic on Harrison Street.

The extension of Bunn Drive and/or Stuart Road will also be needed, and Mr. Kneski reported that the Township's priority is to extend Bunn Drive first.

Mr. Wilson said that the Lowes are aware of the sewer connection ban and the fact that an $8 million trunk line replacement and the $4 million infiltration and inflow removal will not be completed until some time in late 1987 or early 1988. One office building will be built at a time, he said, depending on the market and the absorption rate.

The vote to recommend the project as a major subdivision and site plan approval application was unanimous. The concerns of the members about blasting and the need for additional buffer will be incorporated into the report that goes to the Planning Board.

Schmierer Brothers Open Chambers Walk Cafe To Take Advantage of Food Trends of Eighties

The Chambers Walk Cafe, which opened its doors June 2, is just a few steps down, on Chambers Walk, from the Alchemist & Barrister. It is owned and operated by the same people who own the popular Witherspoon Street restaurant.

John and Tom Schmierer are two of the co-owners. The other two, no longer active on the operating end, are the chemist (alchemist) and attorney (barrister) who originally opened the A&B in 1973.

The two Schmierer brothers became co-partners in the A&B ten years ago, at the respective ages of 26 and 23. They have been in charge of operations ever since.

Both began their restaurant careers at Good Time Charley's, John right out of college and Tom directly from high school. Young and ambitious in a fast-moving company, they helped open the chain's Hopewell and Mt. Holly operations. "It was fast experience," recalls John.

A few years ago — after overseeing an expansion of the A&B and watching the speed-up of the pace of the town — the two saw an opportunity to get into an aspect of the restaurant business different from the one they were in. They grabbed it.

Upscale Fast Food. They sensed the trend of the eighties in the food industry was more and more in the direction of people taking food home. "People are busy, they're both working, and they're looking for quality food," says John. "They're not happy with pizza, Chinese food, and McDonald's."

So they arranged with Palmer Square Corporation to lease 1200 square feet of space in the Nassau Inn's new wing, in a location directly off Palmer Square East and facing the Banana Republic.

They designed the new cafe with a feeling of light and open space, picking up the modern mood with glass-topped round tables and white bentwood chairs. The big front window looks out upon Chambers Walk, a passageway for pedestrians between Palmer Square East and Witherspoon Street.

Early to Late. The cafe, which serves breakfast, lunch, dinner, and late evening desserts and coffee, has a full-service kitchen of its own. Food may be eaten in or taken out, and catering is available.

The Chef is Mario Mangone, a Hodge Road resident whose family lives in Princeton Junction. He worked summers at the A&B a number of years ago, enjoyed it enough to decide to become a chef, and enrolled in the Culinary Institute of America. After graduation, he completed his apprenticeship in The Palace in Philadelphia and The Breakers in Palm Beach.

Both Schmierer brothers are married. John, his wife, Becky, and their four children currently live on Walnut Lane. Tom, his wife Carrie, and their two children live in Trenton. Another brother, Ed, the oldest of the Schmierer brothers, is the Princeton Township attorney.

The Schmierers are part of the Dwyer family of Trenton, founders and owners of the Dwyer Stationery Stores.

John reports many favorable comments about the cafe since its opening. "A lot of people have been saying that it was time there was a little cafe in Princeton," he reports.

The brothers are already thinking about opening additional Chambers Walk Cafes in other locations. "We feel," says John, "that we've found a nice format that will work." And even though they're concentrating right now on settling the new cafe into its niche in Princeton, they are also keeping a sharp eye out for more places that look like they'd welcome a cafe with a menu as varied as shellfish mousse, B.B.Q. baby back ribs, roasted red bliss potato and garlic salad, and orange mousse pie.

RELIGIONBible School Planned At Methodist Church

"Ways Bible People Lived" will be the theme for Vacation Bible School at the United Methodist Church July 21-25. The program will be held from 9 to noon at the church at Nassau Street and Vandeventer Avenue. It is open to all children ages 4 to 12.

In addition to experiencing ways Bible people lived, four- and five-year-olds will focus on how Bible people worked with God. Six- and seven-year-olds will be taught about God's presence in daily life and about the daily life of Biblical people. Eight- and nine-year-olds will discover ways Bible people cared for one another in the course of their daily lives.

Older youth will be helped to understand how Bible people were stewards of God's gifts. All children will have opportunities to participate in daily hands-on activities, including crafts, songs, stories, work, games, and foods of Biblical people.

Families are urged to call the church offices this week to register. A $5 registration fee ($10 maximum per family) is requested. Call 924-2613 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. on weekdays.

Bulletin Notes

James Charlesworth, Colford Professor of New Testament Language and Literature at Princeton Seminary and an ordained Methodist minister, will speak Sunday at 11:15 at an adult forum at Nassau Presbyterian Church.

Prof. Charlesworth has extensive experience working with original biblical manuscripts throughout the world and most recently in the Sinai desert. He will illustrate his current research — a scholarly adventure through monasteries and archives in the Mid-East which has been the subject of a CBS television program — with a slide program and commentary. The program will be held in the Niles Chapel.

The Rev. Richard S. Kauffman, senior minister of the First Presbyterian Church, Morrisville, Pa., will be the guest preacher Sunday at the 10 a.m. service in Princeton University Chapel.

Mr. Kauffman is an alumnus of Westminster College, Pa., and of Princeton Theological Seminary. He has served parishes in New Jersey and Kentucky before coming to Morrisville in 1980.

His sermon topic will be "Believe... or Else!"

The choir of St. Paul's Church, Indianapolis, will give a concert Thursday at 7:30 at Trinity Church. Directed by Frank Boles, the choir is making a tour of the East coast and will be singing also at the National Cathedral in Washington, D.C., and at the Cathedral of St. John the Divine in New York City.

The program will include music from four centuries, ranging from motets by the 16th-century English composer, William Byrd, to 20th-century composers from England and the USA, including Benjamin Britten, Herbert Howells and Ned Rorem. Admission is free.

The Lutheran Church of the Messiah will begin its summer schedule on Sunday. Morning worship will be held at 9:30 each Sunday until early September. Bible classes and Sunday school will also resume in September.

A vacation Bible school is being planned for mid-August.

The film, Power in Parenting: The Young Child, will be shown Sunday at 9:30 by Princeton Alliance Church. The film is one in the six-week series by child psychologist Dr. James Dobson, entitled, "Turn Your Heart Toward Home." The church meets in the Princeton High School Auditorium.

Dr. Carlton James, associate professor of psychology at Rutgers University, will be on hand to answer questions. For information call the church at 799-0074.

The Kingston Presbyterian Church will begin its summer worship schedule on Sunday at 10. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will be celebrated. The church school has stopped meeting for the summer, but classes will resume on Sunday, September 7, at 9:30.

Vacation Bible School will be in session starting July 28 from 9:30 to 11:30. Bible School is for children three years old to those who have completed second grade.

For more information about summer programs for children and youth, call the church office at 921-8895.

The Prince of Peace Lutheran Church summer schedule will begin Sunday at 9:30 in the air-conditioned church on Hightstown Road in Princeton Junction. There will be a coffee fellowship at 10:30 following the service.

For information, call the pastors, the Rev. Gregg Kaufman or the Rev. Margaret Payne at 799-1753.

Nassau Christian Center is beginning a 15-week study on the book of I Corinthians this Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

The Rev. Lawrence Bodley, a Presbyterian minister from South Africa, will be teaching the course, which will include slide presentations on the ancient city of Corinth. The study will focus on the strengths and problems of the church that the Apostle Paul founded in that ancient city renowned for its commerce, luxury, immorality and vice.

The series will continue on Wednesdays at 7:30 p.m. through October 8. Nassau Christian Center is located at 26 Nassau Street.

IN HOPEWELL there is a large loft
where fine reproductions of oil paintings are lifted off their paper and impregnated onto artists' canvas under an atmosphere of pressure. They are then stretched by hand over wooden stretcher bars to hang as is, or framed. The results are stunning pieces of art-work,
as rich in texture and color as the oils from which the reproductions were made

You are invited to come and see this ex-

yourself and, if you've always wanted a

LET'S TALK ABOUT

ROOTS DO KILL

with Sam DeTuro
Woodwinds Associates

A tree fails to leaf out on the first two or three feet of branches around the perimeter. One half of a tree from top to bottom has the foliage wilting. Is it a strange disease or should an accusing finger be pointed towards the ground?

Girdling roots frequently cut into the base of a tree and choke it, much like a noose around a person's neck. The damage in many cases is irreversible because the visible symptoms of it above ground do not show up right away. By the time large sections of the tree begin dying, removal of the strangling root is impractical.

The best indication of girdling roots is examination of the trunk at the soil line. If this area does not flare out but goes straight into the ground, be suspicious of roots underground growing across and against the trunk.

If the crown of the tree is not too far gone, cut the troublesome roots or root with a sharp chisel. Although removal of some roots reduces the amount of water and nutrients previously supplied to the tree, the loss is small compared to the restored capacity of the entire circumference of the trunk to function in the uptake of liquids to foliage. FEEDING the tree heavily to restore vigor and to promote healing is most important. Call WOODWINDS (924-3500) with any of your tree care

Comedy-Drama 'The Boys Next Door,' at McCarter, Deals Sympathetically with Mentally Handicapped

There has been a laudable effort in recent years to take people who are mentally handicapped but capable of caring for themselves in basic physical ways, and of holding simple jobs, and move them from public or private institutions into small households called "supported living arrangements," each loosely supervised by a social worker, there to grow in their own ways, lead richer lives, and even become useful members of society.

The Boys Next Door, which world-premiered last week as the second and final play of a McCarter drama series cut short by the theater's renovation, deals with four such men in such a household (an apartment in a house of otherwise "normal" persons); also the young man who unobtrusively oversees them, a comparably handicapped young woman from a similar household whom they meet at a dance, the father of one group member, the employer of another, plus incidental characters.

This unusual play needs to be reviewed on at least three levels: 1) as entertainment; 2) as journalism, or docu-drama, since it "covers a story" most of us are unfamiliar with; 3) as a work of art, dramatic and literary.

Let it be said right off, the audience seeing it with this reviewer on Saturday night seemed hugely entertained; laughed a lot, applauded especially funny scenes, and, at the final curtain, gave the actors, and indirectly author Tom Griffin and the whole enterprise, a standing ovation — rare from a McCarter audience.

Funny, But... There is a theater saying that Saturday night audiences come to laugh and will turn almost anything into a comedy; but TBND really is funny if one can overlook or somehow deal with the fact that the laughs are mostly at the expense of, or caused by the behavior of, impaired human beings, middle-aged, mainly, but only five to ten years old mentally.

Mr. Griffin has recreated them with so much affection and sympathy that his aim was clearly not to exploit his characters for laughs but to portray them and their world honestly.

Few will come away from his play without new interest in, knowledge of, and concern for people like Arnold and Norman, and Lucien, and Barry, and Sheila.

Mature people prattling like children, saying "dumb" things, has always been a rich source of humor, and we have it here in spades. It just is funny when Arnold (Bob Balaban), the would-be intellectual of the group, determined to emigrate to Russia via Amtrak, says, "When the tough get going, the going gets tough." How true. Or, among dozens of non-sequiturs: "I never wear cowboy boots. I'm a landlubber."

Lines that would be lame coming from characters more highly I.Q.'d are funny when spoken by the fat doughnut junkie Norman (David Schramm) to Sheila (Christine Estabrook), the m.h. girl he has taken a shine to. Norman: "That girl has a mustache." Sheila: "Girls don't have mustaches." Norman (earnestly): "This one has."

There is a weird and wonderful abstractness in so much that is said; in Sheila's telling of a woman in her group who eats paper: "She ate a picture of God once. And a roll of toilet paper."

Noiseless Vacuuming. Lucien (William Jay) totally irrelevantly introduces "bunnies," the rabbit kind, into conversations, and leads a hunt for a rat that turns out to be the runaway hamster of the boy next door. More understandable, even endearing, to this reviewer, is his running the vacuum cleaner without plugging it in, because he hates the noise.

Barry (Alan Ruck), youngest of the group, is not retarded like the others — who in fact are not retarded like each other — but is nearly schizophrenic: imagines himself a golf pro; fantasizes about his father, who has not visited him in nine years, but faithfully sends him chocolates every Christmas. Barry hates chocolate.

When the father (Jay Doyle) finally does visit — bringing a large, post-Valentine's day broken chocolate heart — Barry, having lettered a large sign for the bathroom door saying "Welcome Home, Dad," stiffens catatonically and is speechless. The defensively mean and macho father, himself handicapped by a missing arm, is so furious he strikes Barry, is overcome by remorse and departs.

Saturday night's audience rewarded this fine and sensitive scene with respectful silence.

For the first time in many years, there will be no summer theater in Theatre In-time's Murray Theatre on the Princeton University campus this summer.

According to William McCleery, president of Princeton Summer Theatre Inc., the board had several groups interested in using the theatre for the summer but none with the strong student involvement which the board believes is the primary purpose for which that theatre exists.

The University Grounds and Maintenance Department is taking advantage of the darkened theatre this summer to make some minor repairs and renovations. The stage floor itself will be refinished as will the floor in the lobby area. Additional worklights will be installed backstage along with more lights in the house, and electrical safety modifications will be made to the dimmer board.

Murray Theatre needs a new "fly" backstage, but that is a larger undertaking and thus far no donor has come forward with the funds to install one, according to a representative of the department of physical planning.

Good Journalism. Is TBND good reporting? We were assured by friends in the audience who have had extensive experience with the mentally handicapped that, though necessarily selective, it is.

Nagle Jackson, McCarter's Artistic Director, has cast the play perfectly with actors whose own natures reflect the author's affection and respect for the characters, and has directed them with understanding and a brisk pace. The basic setting by John Jensen is suitably seedy but comfortable, the dance hall — miraculously arrived at thanks to McCarter's new mechanical wonders — is colorful and crepe-papery. Marie Miller's costumes are fine; and the awkward dancing of Norman and Sheila that erupts unaccountably into a veritable Astaire-Rogers fling is the work of Nancy Thiel.

Later, whea inarticulate Lucien is suddenly bathed in bright light and speaks as if he had all his faculties, it is clear that the dance, too, was a theatrical device to dramatize the gap between what is and what might have been.

Is all this art? Performances, direction, and production certainly are. Is it good dramatic literature? It can be argued that making comedy from the antics of the mentally impaired is like shooting fish in a barrel. But to do so as truthfully and lovingly as Mr. Griffin has done it commands our respect.

Ray Baker as the men's supervisor, and the play's occasional narrator, is so appealing and attractive, and his part so sensitively written, that he adds greatly to the acceptability of proceedings that might otherwise seem in debatable taste.

The taste debate will probably go on at local dinner tables for weeks to come — maybe years, for of all plays given their world premieres at McCarter in recent memory, The Boys Next Door seems most likely to enjoy a long life after Princeton.

Childhood Recollected Theme of Film Series

Childhood, as recalled by directors Francois Truffaut, Jean Vigo, Yasujiro Ozu, Peter Bogdanovich and others, will be the theme of an eight-evening film series beginning on Thursday at Rutgers University.

"Focus on Children" will be presented on Thursdays at 7 p.m. through August 7 in Room 200 of the art history building on the Douglass campus. The free series continues a program begun last fall and sponsored by the New Jersey Committee for the Humanities, Rutgers' Department of Media Services and the State University's Office of Student Life Policy.

The series begins Thursday with a double bill of Diane Kurys' Peppermint Soda (1978) and Truffaut's Les Mistons (1958).

The other films in the series, their directors and screening dates are Raging with the Moon, Richard Benjamin, June 26; La Moternelle, Jean Benoit-Levy and Marie Epstein, July 3; The Lost Picture Show (1971), Peter Bogdanovich, July 10; The Wild Child, Francois Truffaut, July 17;

Also, If..., Lindsay Anderson, and Zero for Conduct, Jean Vigo, July 24; I Was Born But..., Yasujiro Ozu, July 31; and Bodlands, Terence Malick, August 7.

New Playwrights Work Staged in an Anthology

The premiere of American Shorts, an anthology of new pieces by American playwrights, will take place at the Mill Hill Playhouse in Trenton, June 20.

American Shorts and the recent formation of The Passage Theatre Company as Trenton's first non-profit professional theatre, result from the financial and critical success of the east coast premiere of William Mastrosimone's The Undoing, which enjoyed a four-week run in Trenton last summer.

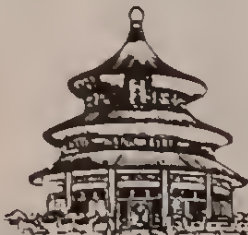

This season's work is set to run through July 13, and will combine pieces by Mastrosimone and other emerging new playwrights from the Sundance Project and the New Writers at the Westside Arts Theatre in New York. Central to the theme of American Shorts is the dramatic and sometimes comic side of the heroic aspects of everyday American life.

Tickets are available by calling 392-0766.

'The Belle of Amherst' Will Open New Season

Stage One Productions will open its second season of American drama at the studio theatre in the Fine Arts Building on the Rider College campus on Thursday, July 10.

Catherine Allgor will portray Emily Dickinson in William Luce's play about America's great female poet. The Belle of Amherst is a love affair with language, the story of a remarkable and reclusive woman who left a legacy of poetry that she never saw published in her lifetime.

Performances are on Thursdays, Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays at 8 until July 27. The final Sunday performance will be a matinee at 2.

Catherine Allgor has been seen most recently in Bucks County Community College's production of Cloud Nine, and prior to this spring, she was seen at Mill Hill Playhouse in Trenton in another one-woman play, Gleam, written especially for her by playwright S. Michael Schnessel. She will also be remembered for her performance as Rose in William Mastrosimone's The Woolgatherer.

Ticket prices are $7 on Thursdays and Sundays and $9 on Fridays and Saturdays. For reservations and additional information call Stage One Productions at 683-0444.

TO PORTRAY POET: Catherine Allgor will appear as "The Belle of Amherst" in William Luce's one-woman play about America's greatest female poet, Emily Dickinson. Presented by Stage One Productions, the play will open Thursday, July 10, at 8 at the Rider College Studio Theatre and will run until July 27 on Thursdays, Fridays, Saturdays and Sundays.

New Series Scheduled By Hopewell Company

The Off-Broadstreet Dessert Theatre in Hopewell announces its 1986-87 subscription series.

The shows range from musicals to comedies to drama.

They're Playing Our Song, which teams the wit of Neil

Simon with the music of Marvin Hamlisch, opens the season July 11. The plot concerns an established and reserved composer who teams up with a zany young female lyricist.

Round and Round the Garden, part of The Norman Conquests by Alan Ayckbourn, is the second selection of the series. An English farce of misintention, the show features Norman, a lovable but basically useless creature who simply wants to have a good time. The production plays from August 22 through September 20.

The days of booing the villain and cheering the hero return to the Off-Broadstreet Theatre September 26 with the production of Lady Audley's Secret, a musical melodrama involving love, former love and present secrets. On Golden Pond, a tender story of the golden years, will be at Off-Broadstreet for a five-weekend run beginning November 7.

The relation between the worlds of the deaf and the hearing are featured in Children of a Lesser God, the final selection in the 1986-87 subscription series. The show is a romantic drama about an imaginative, determined teacher of the deaf who marries one of his pupils.

Fourth Crossroad Benefit Is Postponed to October

The fourth annual benefit gala for Crossroads Theatre Company, the black theatre company in New Brunswick, has been rescheduled to accommodate a larger cast and expanded performance.

Previously held in June, this year's annual benefit is now set for October 18 at a site to be announced. Tickets for the new date will go on sale July 1. More information can be obtained by calling the Crossroads administrative office at (201) 249-5561.

Tentatively scheduled to provide an evening of comedy, song, dance and drama are actress Ruby Dee as mistress of ceremonies and an all-star cast of headliners from the 1985-86 Crossroads production season. Also invited are notables from New Jersey's arts, entertainment and governmental scenes.

The evening will begin at 6 with a black-tie cocktail reception followed by an evening of entertainment. Tickets previously purchased for the June date will be honored in October or may be returned for refund.

Movies at the Library To Begin with Musical

The Public Library will launch a series of summer evening movies Tuesday, July 1, at 8 with the showing of Yankee Doodle Dandy. The feature musical stars James Cagney as George M. Cohan.

Everyone is invited to the two hour screening. The program is made possible by the Friends of the Princeton Public Library.

Flyers for the series may be picked up at the Library.

"The Secret Garden" Film Due at Rocky Hill

The Mary Jacobs Library in Rocky Hill will present the film The Secret Garden on Thursday, June 26, at 7:30 p.m.

Margaret O'Brien stars in this story of an orphan girl who goes to stay with her moody uncle and brightens up the lives of those around her. This film adaptation of the novel by Frances Hodgson Burnett is primarily in black and white with the last reel in color. The film will run 92 minutes.

This program is free and open to the public. For further information call the library at 924-7073.

Pratt Will Conduct NJSO In Annual Pops Concert

The New Jersey Symphony Orchestra's 1986 summer pops concerts will pay tribute to the Statue of Liberty.

Michael Pratt, Associate Conductor of the NJSO, will lead the full orchestra in a program entitled "A Centennial Salute to the Statue of Liberty" at Princeton University Fields, on Friday, July 4, at 7:30. The performance will be highlighted by fireworks. The gates will open at 5:30 for picnics, and the program will offer entertainment for the whole family.

"A Centennial Salute to the Statue of Liberty" features French and American music with Tchaikovsky's 1812 Overture as the grand finale. The program includes Copland's Fanfare for the Common Man, Leonard Bernstein's Overture to Candide, Gershwin's An American in Paris, Dukas' Fanfare from La Péri, and Offenbach's Overture to La Belle Hélène. Also to be heard are a medley of Duke Ellington songs, and excerpts from Bizet's Carmen sung by soloists from this season's June Opera Festival.

Michael Pratt made his subscription concerts debut as associate conductor of the NJSO in April, leading the Orchestra in concerts with guest soloist Lynn Harrell. A Princeton University faculty member, Mr. Pratt is co-founder and music director of the June Opera Festival. He has led the NJSO in youth concerts, June Opera Festival productions, and in performances of The Nutcracker with the New Jersey Ballet.

Ticket information can be obtained by calling 1-800-ALLEGRO or (201) 624-8203 Monday through Friday, 9 - 5. Tickets are available at area businesses and banks.

Winners Are Announced Of Music Study Awards

The Greater Princeton Youth Orchestra has announced winners of this season's music study scholarship awards.

Three $1,000 scholarships from the Frank and Lydia Bergen Foundation were awarded to Yong Kim, clarinet, a sophomore at Ewing High School; Valerie Clemans, viola, a junior at Hopewell Valley Central High School; and John D. Hixson, clarinet, a freshman at Hopewell Valley Central. The winner of the Mr. and Mrs. James Pardo $500 Music Study Scholarship for Strings is James Lim, cello, a junior at Pennsbury High School; second place winner, also for $500, is Mary Rorro, viola, a junior at Villa Victoria Academy; and third place, $450, was awarded to David Kwon, violin, a junior at the Lawrenceville School.

The Paul Ritts Memorial Music Study Scholarship went to Rebecca Melick, clarinet, a junior at Voorhees High School, in Glen Gardner.

Three new corporate scholarships were granted this year as a result of the orchestra's Strauss Ball benefit held in April. Carnegie Center Associates presented $500 to Bronwen Kahn, flute and piccolo, a junior at East Brunswick High School. Merrill Lynch gave a $500 award to Les Kalman, oboe, a sophomore at Ewing High School.

The Siemens Corporation first prize of $250 went to Jennifer Goodstein, flute, a sophomore at Hopewell Valley Central High School; and the Siemens second place award of $250 went to Brian Mount, percussion, a senior at West Windsor High School.

The conductor's award given to the outstanding senior orchestra member was won this year by Alison Glockler, oboe, a senior at Montgomery High School. Dr. Matteo Giammario, GPYO conductor, presented the award to Ms. Glockler, who will attend Colby College in September.

MULTIPLE FANNING: "A lot of people come in for a fan for one room, and they like them so much they come back and buy them for other rooms, too," explains Nora Micci, assistant manager and Mike Sherman, manager of Fan Fare in the Route 1 Plaza Shopping Center, Lawrenceville.

IT'S NEW To Us

Fans for Every Season Featured at Fan Fare

"Fans are more popular than ever," reports Mike Sherman, manager of Fan Fare, located in the Route 1 Plaza Shopping Center, Lawrenceville. "Fans work. They cool you in the summertime, the operating costs are minimal and they're very efficient. They have at least three speeds, and also, the fans are reversible. They blow down in summer with a cooling effect, and in winter, they bring the heat down off the ceiling for added warmth."

There is no question that fans are in fashion. Fan Fare, which also has stores in East Brunswick and Springfield, opened last August and has a tremendous variety of ceiling fans available. Eighty-five different fans are on display, and more than 1,000 are in stock at all times. "We're one of the largest fan dealers on the East Coast, with customers from all over," says Mr. Sherman. "We're a ceiling fan factory outlet with low discounted prices. We sell all our fans at 40% to 70% off. Everything is discounted. Most of the fans are available for immediate delivery. We stand behind everything we sell."

The last five years have seen a remarkable rise in the popularity of ceiling fans, in particular, says Mr. Sherman. As the cost of electricity increased and the types, styles and attractiveness of fans expanded, people began to see them as an alternative to air conditioning.

"A lot of customers are moving to new houses in this area," notes Mr. Sherman, "and they're putting fans in all rooms. They're finding that air conditioning can be noisy, expensive and too cold. Also, with so many choices now, fans have really gotten attractive. There are fans with light kits, different accessories, different finishes on the blades — all kinds of possibilities. All our fans are light adaptable, and you can really customize the fans to your own taste."

Mr. Sherman adds that some people use fans in conjunction with air conditioning. With the additional movement of air from the fan, the combination can create a very comfortable atmosphere in the room.

American Fans Best. Fan Fare emphasizes American fans, says Mr. Sherman. "The quality is definitely higher than that of the imports. They're more efficient, have more powerful motors and will last. They have stability and are generally better."

Casablanca and Emerson fans are carried, and Mr. Sherman considers both companies excellent. "Casablanca is the best fan on the market, and Emerson is probably the best buy. It's the most popular. Emerson Electric has been making fans for about 90 years," he reports. "Casablanca is recognized as the 'Rolls Royce of fans,' and it really is the best in the world. Everything is first class. It's a great company, a great fan and a great movie!"

"We feel we offer high quality American fans and other quality fans also," he continues. "Prices start at $49 and go up to $400 and $500 with all prices in between, depending on size, style, light kits, mode of operation and accessories. Some of the fans are even computer operated."

Ninety percent of Fan Fare's business is residential, but more and more commercial and industrial enterprises are expressing interest in fans, according to Mr. Sherman. "The point is," he explains, "we are seeing a product that works and that has a benefit to it. People are satisfied with it, and economically, they are inexpensive to operate. Fans pay for themselves in a year's time. They look good, too. Basically, it comes down to the fact that they do work."

Service is important at Fan Fare, and every effort is made not only to stand behind the product but to inform and advise customers about the fans' usefulness and operation.

"Our philosophy is to give people personal service," stressed Mr. Sherman. "Whether or not they buy a fan, we try to educate them on the benefits of a fan and guide them on which type of fan would be most beneficial to them. We also have a price guarantee — we have the lowest prices around, and we service everything we sell. In-home service is also available on certain models. Customer satisfaction is very important to us."

Hours are Monday-Saturday, 10-6, Thursday and Friday until 9 and Sunday 12-5.

NEW TOY STORE: "We open at 9:30, but I come in early to check out the toys," says Howard Dickert, owner of The Educated Toy in the Pennington Shopping Center. "I love it, and I love to watch the children having fun with the toys. That's what we're all about."

Toys Excite and Delight At The Educated Toy

There are no "Please Don't Touch" signs in the Educated Toy, the brand-new shop located in the new addition of The Pennington Shopping Center, on Route 31. Demonstration toys are readily available for children to try out, and tables or play islands are set up in the center aisle of the store where the kids can play, touch, build, create and generally have fun with a variety of engaging toys.

"Most of our toys are 'hands on,'" says Howard Dickert, owner with his wife Myra, of The Educated Toy. "We encourage the children to play here. Toys have to stimulate the child's mind. Kids need to have a challenge, to put their imagination to work. Brio wooden trains, construction sets and The Roller Coaster, a toy that constantly challenges and stimulates all of a child's senses, are among those available to the children to play with."

"The wooden Brio toys from Sweden are very popular," continues Mr. Dickert. "They're sturdily constructed, and the children have to put the parts together. They're not hard, but they're not easy. It helps the kids to learn about dexterity. They can start playing with Brio at the age of three and continue to add a variety of pieces as they go along."

The Educated Toy carries items that will appeal to children from the crib on up through the eighth grade, notes Mr. Dickert, and indeed, "kids" of all ages will enjoy some of the toys. The Roller Coaster, one of the most popular toys, is designed for children 18 months and up, but Mr. Dickert reports that

"women came in and bought a lot of them for their husbands for Father's Day." Probably because it's a lot of fun. Resembling the shape of a roller coaster, it has small wooden pieces in varying shapes and colors that can be moved about on curving wires. "You have to use two hands to play with it," explains Mr. Dickert, "and it helps a child with dexterity, color and shape recognition, grouping, as well as gravity and depth perception. It also allows for individual or group play. It's very intriguing."

Most Toys Imported. Most of the toys are imported from England, Scandinavia, France, Italy and Germany and include the famous L.G.B. electric trains (indoor and outdoor), wooden blocks, finger paints, ("non-toxic, washable and with an apron packed inside"), tool chests, needlecraft, make-up and woodburning kits, doctor's sets, models, a Kids Comp Talk Computer that works on a battery, and a variety of games and puzzles. "We have puzzles for kids of all ages," notes Mr. Dickert. "Puzzles with five to six pieces up to 100 pieces."

A "Science" section includes chemistry sets, microscopes, rockets, and models to assemble, such as The Humnn Tooth, Human Lung, Visible Man and Visible Woman, among others.

Books with such titles as Air, Simple Chemistry, Space, and Flight, are in stock as well as books for very small children that emphasize pictures and contain just a few words. "The point is to get the child to tell you about what he saw," says Mr. Dickert.

Stuffed animals in all sizes, both furry and non-furry, are also abundant. Furry handpuppets in the shape of a rabbit, wolf, raccoon, bird, lion and monkey are especially appealing, and the "No Frills Bear," in the non-furry category, is very popular and also makes a delightful "autograph" bear.

Among other items are clocks to help kids learn to tell time, dinosaur models to assemble ("Kids are fascinated by dinosaurs," observes Mr. Dickert. "They just love them and are often very knowledgeable about the different kinds"). "Also," he adds, "we carry a lot of personalized items such as clocks, coat hangers, lamps and crayon and toothbrush holders. These can have the child's name put on them."

Since the store has been open for just two weeks, the Dickerts are still waiting for additional merchandise to arrive. Even in the short time the shop has been open, however, people have been coming in steadily. "They're finding us," Mr. Dickert says with a smile. "The customers seem to be very nice. This is my first venture with a store of my own, and the people seem really delightful. It's a special pleasure to watch the children. Seeing the kids is really the best part. The concept that toys should have educational value as well as play value intrigues me. I took six months off to do an intensive study. I learned a lot about these toys. Then we did a demographic study and found this is an upcoming area for the flow of traffic. So here we are!"

Prices vary at The Educated Toy, starting at 35 cents and going up to $300 for L.G.B. electric trains. Stuffed animals are in the $9 to $79 range, construction sets are $10 to $25 and puzzles $3 to $12.

Mr. Dickert emphasized that he feels each child is special and that play is also special because it is "by far the most exciting and absorbing activity of childhood; it is, in fact, the natural language of the child. The Educated Toy's theme is that to play is to learn, and we invite children to enter and have fun."

Hours are 9:30 to 6, Monday to Saturday, and until 8 on Friday.

— Jean Stratton

ART

Special Exhibition Set For June Opera Festival

The New Jersey State Museum has assembled an exhibition entitled "Summer Pleasures" especially for the June Opera Festival. The Museum's curator of art, Zoltan Buki, has chosen eight works on paper by nationally known artists. The show will open Friday and run through July 6 in the lobby gallery of the Kirby Arts Center of the Lawrenceville School.

Works of art from the museum's collection that fit the ambiance of the June Opera Festival will be on view. They depict each artist's view of a summer pleasure — canoeing, bicycling, eating ice cream.
The works are by Jack Beal, Alexander Calder, John Randolph Carter, Alex Katz, Fairfield Porter, Ben Shahn, and Carol Summers.

The June Opera Festival will present Mozart's The Magic Flute and Rossini's Cinderella
at the Kirby Arts Center beginning Friday. The exhibition will be open during box office hours,
and on those evenings when there is a performance. For tickets and information, call 683-5468.

Platinum Prints Featured At the N.J. State Museum

"A Breath of Light: The Contemporary Platinum Print" will be on view from June 21
through September 7 in the east
gallery at the New Jersey State Museum, Trenton. The preview reception is scheduled for Friday, June 20, from 7 to 8:30 p.m. in the gallery.

The show features the work of 26 contemporary artists us-
graphic process, the platinotype. In addition to more than 85 contemporary images, there will be photographs by early masters of the medium, such as Peter Henry Emerson, Gertrude Kasebier, and Frederick Evans.

The platino-type was the process of choice for fine art photographers from the 1880's until the early part of this century.
For various reasons, the process was abandoned in the 1930s.
Its resurrection came at the hands of, among others, Irving Penn and George Tice, two of
graphers. Tice is New Jersey's premier photographer.

Lenders to the exhibition include the Metropolitan Museum of Art and Vassar College as well as private collectors. The exhibit will travel to Vassar College in 1987.

Exhibits

Two serigraphs by Joanathan Bock of Princeton, Guitar Player, and Guitar Player II, have been selected for inclusion in the Sixth Regional Art Exhibit sponsored by the Susquehanna Art Society in Selinsgrove, Pa.

The exhibit will run from June 22-29 in the Selinsgrove Area High School.

"William King: Sculpture"
will open at The Squibb Gallery June 29 and continue through the summer to September 1.

Mr. King, a sculptor of "uncommon intelligence and originality," according to New York Times art critic Hilton Kramer, has figured on the art scene for more than 30 years.
He was included in the Museum of Modern Art's "New Talent" exhibition in New York in 1950
and appeared in Whitney Museum Annuals regularly from 1952 to 1968.

The Squibb Gallery will show several of Mr. King's humorous sculptures, in a variety of sizes and textures, in materials that include aluminum, wood, vinyl and polychromed bronze.

The Squibb Gallery is located in Squibb's world headquarters on Route 206. It is open, at no charge, daily from 9 to 5, with extended hours until 9 p.m. on Thursday, and Saturday and Sunday from 1 to 5.

Wisconsin, Princeton Win In Cincinnati Regatta

It was supposed to be a battle between Penn, Brown and possibly Harvard for the national title, but Wisconsin's heavyweight crew surprised everyone last Saturday by winning the Cincinnati Intercollegiate Rowing Championship Regatta.

Sharing the spotlight with Wisconsin was the Princeton men's lightweight crew, which won the lightweight division, added to the regatta for the first time this year. The Tigers ran away and hid from the rest of the boats, finishing a full nine seconds ahead of San Diego State in 6:10. Yale was third and California Maritime, fourth.

This was a tune-up race for Coach Gary Kilpatrick's oarsmen, before they head overseas. They will leave this Thursday for England, row in the Marlowe Regatta on Saturday, again in Amsterdam on June 27-29, and return to London for the Henley Royal Regatta July 2-7.

The Badgers' women crews, both junior varsity and varsity, completed a sweep, defeating five-time reigning champion University of Washington, which they had already beaten twice this season. Radcliffe placed second and Princeton tied for third with Washington.

Established five years ago so that winners of various regional regattas could race against each other, the Cincinnati race drew Penn, the Eastern Sprints winner; Brown, the IRA champion; California-Berkeley, the Pac-10 champion, and Harvard, which had defeated Yale in their annual four-mile race. Yale also entered to get another crack at the Crimson over a shorter distance.

The final boat in the race was Wisconsin, which had not won a major race, but had been narrowing its margin of defeat against eastern crews all spring. This time, the Badgers,

TWO SPORT ALL-AMERICAN: Diane Kelly of Lawrenceville made sports history at Mercer County Community College last week by becoming the first MCCC athlete to be named a National Junior Athletic Association All-American in two sports: softball and women's soccer. The former Notre Dame High School standout finished the 1986 softball season as one of the top hitters in the nation with a .563 average, leading the Lady Vikings to a 27-7 record. In her two-year soccer career at MCCC, Kelly was the leading scorer in the nation in the 1984 and '85 seasons with 47 and 37 goals respectively. A Humanities and Social Science major at MCCC, Kelly will transfer to George Washington University in Washington, D.C. in September where she will major in Kinetics and Leisure Studies and participate in soccer. Pictured with her is Bill Drake, who coached Kelly in both soccer and softball during her career at MCCC.

after trailing Penn, which took the lead at the start, and then Brown, which held it most of the way, wiped out that margin of defeat in the final 500 meters. Wisconsin's boat caught the Bruins with 100 meters to go, winning by 2.1 seconds or about half a boat length. Penn finished third, nine-tenths of a second back, followed by Harvard, Cal-Berkeley and Yale.

Post 76, Bordentown Split In Battle for First Place

In the two-game showdown between Princeton Post 76 and Bordentown Post 26, the two teams picked to fight it out for the championship of the Mercer County American League, both teams scored a knockout.

In a raucous game Sunday, Bordentown stopped Post 76 on a one-hitter. Monday, Post 76 countered with a two-hitter by Dave Arendas and a 4-1 victory at Gildar Field in Bordentown. "They thought they were hot stuff down there but our kids went out and took it to them — and they did it with class," said Post 76 manager, Larry Bender.

Vital as the win was for Post 76, Bender observed, "Still, it is just one more game. We've got to come back and play tomorrow."

Post 76 will next oppose Broad Street Park Post 313 this Wednesday at 6 at Mercer Park in the second of back-to-back games with Post 313 — its fourth game in four days. On Friday it will host Lawrence Post 414 at Field 2 in Mercer Park in a 5:45 contest and on Saturday, it will play Lawrence again in a night contest at 7:30 at Eggerts Crossing Field.

Tuesday, it will oppose Trenton Post 93 at Wetzel Field. A game with Ewing that was rained out last week has been rescheduled for June 30.

The victory over Bordentown left Post 76 in second place in the ten-team league with a 4-1 record. Bordentown is 3-2 while surprising Hamilton Post 31 is on top with a perfect 5-0 mark.

Post 76 and Hamilton will not meet until a two-game series on June 8-9. So far, commented Bender, Hamilton's pitching "has held people down, but we'll see. It's a long season."

Bats Do the Talking. In reaction to the previous day when his team, Bender said, was subjected to a lot of verbal abuse and cussing, Post 76 responded with the silent treatment. "We went into the game and didn't say a word. We didn't say a word for five innings," recalled Bender. "They were screaming at us in the first inning but there was no chatter from us; they didn't know who to talk to."

After Post 76 scored three runs in the fifth inning to take a 3-1 lead, "We started talking," said Bender. "We took a little wind out of their sails."

The silent treatment, he said, was a tactic he had learned from coach Butch Miller. It worked.

After Bordentown had scored an unearned run in the third on a walk, error and wild pitch, Post 76 tied it in the fifth when second baseman Danny Sexton walked, stole second, advanced on a sacrifice fly and came home on a wild pitch. Then after Post 26 pitcher Mike Donahue had walked Tim Rumer and Darren Villani, Mike Walker followed with a two-run double. Bordentown manager Jim Maher claimed the ball should have been caught by his left fielder, Tom Shinn, who allowed the ball to sail over his head. "That's okay," replied Bender. "It's a double and it drives in two runs. That's the way it will go into the books."

Post 76 added its final run in the last inning on a double by Sexton, a single by Arendas — the team's fifth hit — and a sacrifice fly by Villani.

In improving his record to 3-0, Arendas struck out nine and walked three. "He got ahead of us and made us chase bad pitches; that's the sign of a good pitcher," commented Maher of Arendas after the game.

The 4-1 record is just where Bender had hoped his club would be after the first week of play. "It's such a long schedule and we play so many games," he commented. "We have four games in four days. You don't see that in high school. You've got to have a bench to do that and we have a good bench."

Bender could also take a measure of satisfaction in the

Did you know that one of the most successful managers in big league baseball history was an absolute failure as a manager until he was 59 years old — and then after that age he went on to take more teams to the World Series than any other manager in history? ... Casey Stengel managed in the majors between the ages of 44 and 58 and NEVER finished higher than 5th place ... Then at age 59 he won his first pennant — and then won the amazing total of 10 pennants between the ages of 59 and 70.

I bet you didn't know ... that many health insurance plans for families do not cover children after they reach 19 years old and/or finish college.

Why is a boxing ring called a "ring" when it's really a square? ... In the early days of boxing, fighters fought in a circular area and the word "ring" remained even though the shape of the fighting area changed.

Did you know that baseball star Reggie Jackson once played major-college football? ... Jackson played football for Arizona State in 1965, at the tight end position.

Bender used all his players after getting the big lead and called on Mike Walker to pitch the final frame after Pierson had limited Ewing to one run and six hits in six innings. Princeton turned a double play in the final inning and was guilty of just one error in the game.

Abrecht, Butler Honored As Top Male Athletes

Princeton University seniors Cliff Abrecht and Doug Butler have been awarded the William Winston Roper Trophy, the school's highest athletic honor for senior male athletes.

Presented by Mrs. William Winston Roper and by the Class of 1902 in honor of the football coach whose tenure at the University produced 89 victories, 28 defeats, and 16 ties over 17 seasons, the trophy is awarded annually to "a Princeton senior of high scholastic rank and outstanding qualities of sportsmanship for general proficiency in athletics."

Abrecht, perhaps the best ice hockey defenseman ever to play at Princeton, finished sixth on the all-time Tiger scoring list with 101 points (34 goals, 67 assists). He is the holder of several Princeton records, including career assists (67), career goals for a defenseman (34), and game assists (4).

An outstanding senior season — in which he was named first team All-Ivy, first team All-ECAC, and first team All-American — put the finishing touches on Abrecht's brilliant career. He was twice named first team All-Ivy (1985 and '86) and earned second team all-league status on a third occasion (1984).

An electrical engineering major, Abrecht is a graduate of North Park High School. His National Hockey League rights are owned by the Toronto Maple Leafs, who selected him in the ninth round of the June 1983 draft.

Butler holds nearly every passing record at Princeton, including career yardage (7,291), career touchdown passes (47), and career completions (542). The record-breaking signal-caller was a second team All-

Ivy selection in both his sophomore and junior seasons and a first team pick in his final campaign. He was the Ivy League Sophomore of the Year in 1983 and the ECAC Rookie of the Year that same fall. He holds three of the top five individual game passing performances in Tiger history, his best being a 469-yard effort against Lafayette (1983).

The history major recently signed a free agent contract with the New York Giants of the National Football League.

Ficarro's Slips a Notch In Women's Softball

The Princeton-based Steve Ficarro's Auto Body women's softball team's record in the Mercer County Women's "A" League is now 9-3, after it split its last two games.

Following a 4-3 loss to Keystone Fabricating, Ficarro's came back with a 10-0 shutout of Byrne Builders, a game which was stopped after five innings under the 10-run rule. Winning pitcher Clare Baxter yielded just three hits and also collected two hits and 4 RBI's. Grace Durland was 3-for-3 including a double, Doreen Ragazzo was 2-for-2, and Diane Kelly drove in two runs.

In tournament play, Ficarro's has been successful thus far, finishing third in the Early Bird Tournament in Trenton and second in the Chester Menkowski Memorial Tournament in Somerville. In the recent Menkowski tournament, Ficarro's defeated Perth Amboy's Rascals (last year's ASA Major New Jersey state champion), 5-4, Kerwin's from Dunellen, 2-1, and Justin's Bombers from Nutley, 4-1, before losing twice to tournament winner Nickleby's Restaurant from Greenwich, Conn. (last year's ASA Class A Connecticut state champion), 2-1 and 1-0.

Ficarro's Debbie Smyth batted .500 for the tournament, and Janet Swick hit .417. Pitcher Baxter gave up just 23 hits in the five games, and shortstop Kelly and first baseman Melanie Nosal played well defensively.

Ficarro's will next oppose Vermeer on Thursday at 7:30 p.m. on Mercer county Park's Field 2.

win in that he had four 16-year-old players in the lineup: Sexton at second, Billy Byrne at short, Rumer in left and John Clarkson in right. "We still have a lot of people coming back," he said.

Postponed a day, the initial meeting of Bordentown and Post 76 had all the intensity of a playoff game. "They acted like it was a World Series," complained Bender. First-year coach Jim Maher of Bordentown agreed that he didn't like the heightened tension but he defended his players by saying, "The kids were fired up."

In the ninth inning, head umpire Marty Clark halted the game temporarily when he ordered both coaches to control their players and fans.

Those who braved the 90-degree heat saw a fine pitching duel between Post 76's Rumer and Bordentown's Santo Porto, who just finished his freshman year at West Chester University in Pennsylvania. Rumer was impressive in limiting Post 26 to four hits; Porto was outstanding in baffling Post 76

Arendas, Leavitt, Tuckner Named To Eastern League All-Star Team

Princeton University's baseball team, which had a disappointing season overall (17-21) and in the Eastern League (8-10, seventh place), placed three of its members on the league's all-star team in voting by the coaches. Only Navy, with four, did better.

Senior centerfielder Dan Arendas, a first-team pick each of the last two years, was one of three unanimous selections this time. The West Windsor-Plainsboro High School graduate batted .370 in EIBL competition.

Todd Leavitt was another repeat selection. The senior shortstop, who had a .295 batting average, was named to the first team in his junior year. Making the squad for the first time was third baseman Todd Tuckner. He swung for an average of .385 as a junior.

Other selections included John Plansky, catcher, Brown; Karl Tappert, first base, Army; Mike Leoney, second base, Navy; Tom Cascino, outfield, Army; Mike Schultz, outfield, Navy; Jim DePalo, designated hitter, Harvard; and Drew Tanner and Dave Landweher, pitchers, both from Navy. Tanner, who posted a 4-1 pitching record with an 0.28 earned run average, was chosen the EIBL Pitcher of the Year.

No other Tiger players, including junior outfielder Drew Stratton and senior pitcher, Scot LaForest, were named to the second team or received honorable mention. Stratton, a first-team pick in 1985, struggled at the plate all spring, and finished with a .269 average in league play, .287 overall.

His off-year at the plate may have contributed to Stratton's decision to remain at Princeton for his senior year, instead of joining the Oakland Athletics organization. The A's made him their eighth-round pick.

Arendas, a 17th-round draft pick of the New York Yankees, is playing in the New York-Penn league. LaForest has recently signed a free agent contract with the Baltimore Orioles.

on one hit, an RBI infield single by Rumer in the eighth.

Each team scored an unearned run in the first. Bordentown's came off an error by Post 76 shortstop Arendas after Bordentown had loaded the bases on a leadoff double by Dan Dengler, a walk, and a Steve Hovart single. Rumer struck out the next two, but when third baseman Wayne Irons lapped a slow roller up the middle, Arendas bumped second baseman Sexton in fielding the ball and the ball rolled loose.

Post 76 got it back when Arendas led off the first with a walk, advanced on an error and Rumer sacrifice and scored on catcher Craig Ender's grounder.

Bordentown put a hammerlock on the outcome with a four-run rally in the fourth. Rumer, who was named Player of the Week in the league last week after batting .444 and driving in four runs, hit Mike Donahue with a pitch, walked Kevin Ingham and yielded a single to Dan Dengler to jam the bases.

Rumer then walked Mike Dengler to force in the go-ahead run. Two more crossed the plate when Arendas committed a throwing error when he stepped in an outfield sprinkler hole. Rumer's wild pitch plated the victor's fifth run.

Porto lost his shutout and bid for a no-hitter in the eighth.

After walking Dan Sexton and Mike Walker, he gave up a single to Rumer that found the hole between first baseman Darrin Ketch and second baseman Steve Hovart. "Three more feet either way and he would have had a no-hitter," observed Maher.

"We just have to play better defense," said Bender after the game. He tried to downplay the outcome by claiming it was just one game in the schedule.

Originally scheduled for Saturday, the game had to be postponed a day after Florence High (25-1) won the NJSIAA Group 1 state championship on Saturday when it defeated Roselle Park, 8-1, on Princeton University's Strubing Field. Nine Florence High players are on the Bordentown roster.

The ability of the Florence players to come back the next day after celebrating their state title had been a concern of Maher. "I knew I would find out about this team today," he said. No doubt, Maher liked what he saw.

Ewing Falls Second Time. Earlier in the week, Post 76 defeated Ewing, 7-1, for its third win without a loss.

The victors capitalized on some timely hitting (they were out hit, 8 to 5) and some aggressive base running. Two other ingredients in the win were the steady pitching of Scott Pierson and seven errors by the Ewing team.

"This is the third game in a row we didn't make any mental errors," observed Bender. "That's the key to winning ballgames."

After two scoreless innings, Post 76 erupted for four runs in the third off losing pitcher Ernie Antonelli. The victors combined a walk, a sacrifice bunt and a bunt single by Sexton to put runners on first and third. Arendas followed by lining a double to right center to score two runs. A single by Darren Villani, a sacrifice fly and one of Ewing's seven miscues produced two more runs.

Post 76 put the game out of reach with three more unearned runs in the next inning, combining walks, a stolen base and three more Ewing errors.
